Engineering Proposal Is Voted Down

Study Group Decides To Meet Thursday in Bid To Find Solution

A proposed one-way street plan with two railroad underpasses for north-south traffic in Marion was turned down by the joint traffic committee at its meeting Tuesday night at City Hall.

This action was taken on a motion to accept these recommendations of the Marion arterial highway report provided the city's maximum share of the cost be no more than $750,000.

Defeat came on a 7-3 vote after some two hours of discussion, much of it a review of previous committee deliberations.

Closes Door on Report

The vote closed the door on principal recommendations of the arterial report prepared by the local engineering firm of Browne, Roberts and Associates after months of study on various methods of solving the downtown traffic muddle.

But the committee decided to continue discussion Thursday night to attempt to establish some alternate plan. Some members said after the meeting they felt the committee could propose and accept some alternate.

Others, and many observers, said last night's action ends any hopes that the city will take steps toward an adequate solution of its congestion problem in the foreseeable future.

The motion to accept the recommendations of the report was made by Councilman - at - large Richard Lister, and it was amended by Ray Beverly to stipulate the top limit of the city's share of costs. Mr. Beverly is a member of the citizens' committee.

The Voting on the Motion

Voting for the motion were: Mr. Beverly, Mrs. William Diem and Mr. Lister.

Against it were: R. Guy Bigelow, William Hamor, John Courtright Jr., John Burke, James Jenkins, Harold Smith and Ralph Williams. Chairman H. L. Dowler did not vote and Councilman John Corwin, the only other committeeman, was absent.

The meeting opened with remarks by Mr. Dowler that he had learned the proposed underpasses could be built with little or no damage to city sewers on N. State and N. Prospect Sts.

There also was a brief discussion on a request from Mr. Corwin relayed to the committee through Mr. Dowler that action be deferred until Thursday night since he was out of the city Tuesday night and could not be present.

The committee voted to excuse Mr. Corwin's absence but decided not to defer its vote on the issue.

Mr. Hamor asked, immediately after Mr. Lister made his motion,

20 Americans Killed on Trip To Venezuela

NEW YORK (AP)—A Venezuelan super-airliner burst into flame nearly two miles high early today and hurtled downward like a giant meteor into the Atlantic Ocean, killing 74 persons. It was the world's worst disaster in regular airline service.

A rescue ship which reached the site, some 32 miles east of Asbury Park, N. J., radioed it had found much debris and two bodies. It added:

"Found no survivors. Expect to find none."

One American family of four was among the 20 Americans aboard.

The pilot of a Coast Guard plane—sent out to try to guide the stricken four-engine, Super Constellation back to New York's Idlewild Airport after it reported engine trouble—said later of the falling airliner:

"It was a frightening sight. It was a big ball of flame. It all happened very fast.

"The plane began to jettison fuel and then five seconds later a ball of flame broke out. The plane caught fire and took a spiraling dive into the water.

"It was falling 4,000 feet a minute. It hit the water with terrific impact. The plane was enveloped by flame on impact."

Two-Mile Plunge

It was nearly two miles up when it began the fatal plunge.

The Coast Guard pilot, Lt. Cmdr. Frederick J. Hancox, 35, of Wantagh, N. Y., said the airliner dived through bright moonlight at an angle of about 60 degrees until it hit the water at 1:32 a.m.

He said there was a "loud explosion" and that there were flames on the water for about 10 minutes. He said he couldn't land his own craft, although it was an amphibian.

Later he spotted an oil slick and debris, including "clothing, handbags and miscellaneous items in the water."

Off Asbury Park, N. J.

The airliner crashed about 32 miles east of Asbury Park, N. J., and 40 to 50 miles south of Idlewild—just 10 minutes of flying time.

It had taken off for Caracas, Venezuela, from Idlewild at 11:18 p.m. Approximately an hour later the pilot, Capt. Luis F. Plata of Venezuela, radioed that he was having engine trouble and was turning back.

He was then 250 miles east of Norfolk, Va.

Later he calmly advised that he was "dumping gas"—a routine fire-preventing measure when an emergency landing is anticipated—and then came his final, dramatic words:

"Gas caught fire."

Hancox, whose amphibian had just come in sight of the airliner, said one engine was feathered on its left wing—that is, the propeller was idling.

Then, he said, the fire appeared

Ike's Weight Halts Drop, Stays at 162

President Must Stay In Hospital Longer Than First Estimated

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's doctors took satisfaction today from the fact that he has stopped losing weight.

The physicians who disclosed Tuesday that Eisenhower will be kept in Walter Reed Army Hospital at least a few days longer than was estimated at the time he underwent intestinal surgery, said in this morning's medical bulletin that he continued to "progress very satisfactorily."

The bulletin mentioned that Eisenhower's weight before breakfast was 162 pounds, the same as Tuesday and down 7 pounds from his weight when he was hospitalized June 8.

No Immediate Gain Seen

James C. Hagerty, press secretary, said the physicians do not expect the patient's weight to start back up for a few more days.

There still was no detailed explanation of the decision to keep Eisenhower in the hospital at least until the middle of next week, but other doctors in telling newsmen about the new schedule Tuesday emphasized that the first estimate was only an approximation. On that timetable he would have been released around the coming weekend.

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the President's personal physician, told reporters earlier it looked as though the President would remain in the hospital a few days after Sunday.

Midweek at Earliest

Hagerty said the President would remain in the hospital "until about midweek at the earliest."

One of the President's doctors, Dr. Isidor Ravdin of the University of Pennsylvania, told reporters he did not expect Eisenhower to have another flareup of ileitis, the intestinal inflammation that led to the President's operation.

There had been published reports, quoting other physicians, that the ailment tends to recur.

Ravdin, questioned by reporters, replied:

"I have never seen a recurcurence in a patient of the age of the President." Eisenhower is 65.

'Shoulder to Shoulder'

Zhukov Welcomes Alliance With Tito

MOSCOW (AP) — Yugoslavia agreed today to cooperate with the Soviet government and Communist party "on a basis of equality" and Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov told Yugoslav President Tito their two countries will fight "shoulder to shoulder" in any future war.

Zhukov, wartime associate of President Eisenhower, spoke out after a Kremlin ceremony at which Tito and Soviet leaders signed two communiques outlining agreements reached during the Yugoslav leader's three-week visit to Russia.

Details of Statement

The comminique on relations between the two governments expressed their agreement that (1) Communist China should be admitted to the United Nations, (2) that Germany should be unified through negotiations rather than the elections which the West has advocated, and (3) that Formosa should be handed over to Red China.

It also said both governments looked forward to future personal contacts between them.

The communique on relations between the two parties was not made public immediately.

Tito Decorates Zhukov

Zhukov's statement came after Tito had awarded him Yugoslavia's highest decoration, the Order of Freedom, for his World War II command of Soviet armed forces which Tito said led "the liberation of Yugoslavia from the Fascist invaders."

"I am convinced the people of the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia will march hand in hand for peace and socialism," Zhukov replied. "We will do all we can to assure peace in the world, but if a war is imposed on us, we will be together shoulder to shoulder as in the last war, to fight for the well being of mankind."

There was no way of learning immediately if Tito had any advance information on what Zhukov planned to say. Only Monday night the Yugoslav chief had told newsmen that he had reached no military agreements with the Soviets during his visit.

Ducks Direct Answer

Asked what he thought of Zhukov's statement, Yugoslav Foreign Minister Koca Popovic told a news conference: "In connection with this, I can only say I hope there will be no war in the future."

An American reporter asked whether the Zhukov statement indicated that the rapprochement between the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia had now become so close that they would automatically be allies in any future war. Popovic replied obliquely:

"We consider that the development of cooperation with the Soviet Union as well as cooperation with all other countries of the world will only serve to help remove the danger of war."

Tito was to leave Moscow two hours after the signing ceremony for Kiev, in the Ukraine, and then home.

U. S. May Be Skeptical

Awaiting him was another major diplomatic effort—to try to convince the United States that he still is an independent Communist and not completely back in the Soviet camp. During his visit Tito has insisted that the agreements he was reaching with the Russians would not affect his relations with the Western nations who aided him after he broke with Stalin in 1948.

Soviet Communist party secretary Khrushchev signed the agreement covering Soviet - Yugoslav party relations as Premier Bulganin signed the document covering relations between the two governments.

Tito, who is head of both state and party in Yugoslavia, signed both.

The signing ceremony in the marble hall of the Grand Kremlin Palace formally buried the ax Stalin used to chop the Yugoslav party from the Communist family in 1948. Tito was damned as a heretic by Stalin.

'Wyatt Earp' Hurt

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Hugh O'Brian, television's Wyatt Earp, suffered a severely cut eye Tuesday night in a two-car auto collision. He was released from St. John's Hospital after getting six stitches in the eyelid.

Wyandot Auto Accident Fatal To Local Man

Carl E. McKee, 72, Dies After Collision Near Upper Sandusky

A Marion man died Tuesday night of injuries he suffered earlier in the afternoon in a head-on auto collision north of Upper Sandusky. He was the fourth person to die in traffic mishaps this week in the Marion area.

Dead is Carl E. McKee, 72, of 270 E. Center St., a retired salesman. He died about 9 p.m. in the Wyandot Memorial Hospital in Upper Sandusky where he was taken following the crash.

In 'Fair' Condition

In "fair" condition at the hospital is Wilbur Lee England, 20, of near Carey. Wyandot County sheriff's deputies said the accident happened about 3.2 miles north of Upper Sandusky on Route 23 at 4:20 p.m. Tuesday.

They said there was a slight curve in the road at the spot and the cars collided head-on. Mr. McKee was driving south and Mr. England was heading north, deputies said. They added that both men were alone in their cars.

Mr. McKee suffered a fractured skull, ruptured trachea and fractures of the right wrist, both feet and heels.

Mr. England suffered a possible skull fracture, broken right ankle, facial cuts, loss of several teeth and internal injuries. He was reported unconscious until this morning.

No Witnesses Found

Sheriff's deputies were unable to locate any witnesses but said the McKee car was pushed backward 27 feet from the point of impact.

One person died Sunday and two Monday from injuries suffered in Sunday auto crashes. They were Richard Dean Couts, 16, of near Cardington; Mrs. Lillie Bell Thomas, 86, of Marseilles and Richard E. Smith, 27, of 460 Davids St. Young Couts and Mr. Smith were in cars involved in a head-on collision in Morrow County just east of the Marion County line, and Mrs. Thomas was injured in a four-car wreck in Wyandot County.

Carl E. McKee was born May 19, 1884, in Columbus, a son of

Pineau, Dulles Close Talks on Algeria Revolt

WASHINGTON (AP)—French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau ends his round of foreign policy talks with Secretary of State Dulles today confident of vigorous American backing for France's continuing battle to crush an Algerian revolt.

The 51-year-old Pineau, whose government several months ago criticized the United States for lukewarm support in Algeria, said he was sure Dulles "perfectly understood" France's difficulties in the North African region now. He reported also that American support will extend to any United Nations debate now being urged by countries friendly to Algerian nationalists.

The U.N. Security Council will meet Thursday to discuss the French-Algerian conflict as a preliminary to a vote to put the question on the council agenda for debate and possible action.

Woman's Will Gives $23,000 To New School

The fund for the proposed new Marion Catholic High School was substantially increased today by a bequest of more than $23,000 through the will of the late Miss Lucy Agnes Baer, whose death occurred Dec. 31, 1952.

Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, pastor, was named trustee for the bequest which amounts to $23,531.26. The will stipulates that the money be "for uses and purposes of St. Mary Parochial school."

The money will be placed in the fund for the new high school, Father Spickerman said today.

The gift brings the cash receipts to $244,985.43 and the total in pledges and cash receipts to $608,010.17.

The donor of the gift was a lifelong member of St. Mary Catholic Church. A descendant of pioneer residents of the county, she was the daughter of Eli and Lucy Parker Baer. The family home was seven miles north of Marion on the Bosley Rd. where she had lived practically all her life. Her death occurred in St. Rita's Home for the Aged in Columbus.

The new school, according to plans, will be ready for use by September of 1957. It is to be built on a 15-acre tract at Mt. Vernon Ave. and Forest Lawn Dr. on Marion's east side. It will be a one-floor structure, of modern, functional design and will accommodate 500 students.

The check for the bequest was delivered to Father Spickerman Tuesday by Attorney Thomas Fetter, administrator of the will.

Farm Agency Head Resigns During Probe

'Strongly Suggested' That He Depart, Ike Appointee Testifies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert B. McLeaish who quit abruptly late Tuesday as head of the Agriculture Department's Farmers Home Administration, said today it had been "strongly suggested" that he resign.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson told him, he said, that it might be best if "I got out of the picture."

McLeaish was before the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee. Previous witnesses had told the group that McLeaish often drank excessively.

McLeaish emphatically denied to the senators that he was a drunkard or addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors.

H. W. Brawley, executive director for the committee, asked him whether, in view of his testimony that he was not addicted to intoxicants, he felt the suggestion from Benson that he resign was "unfair."

"I don't think it was fair or unfair," McLeaish replied. "I'm not a member of the Civil Service. I serve at the pleasure of the President."

A Texan, now 57, McLeaish was appointed to the FHA post in 1953 by President Eisenhower.

The senators also have been told of a party in Montana where Farmers Home Administration

Overrules Construction Council

Lausche Calls for Plans On 2 Parts of New Pike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche has ordered the State Highway Department to prepare plans for the construction of two legs of a proposed north-south turnpike as a toll-free expressway. The governor indicated there is no possibility at present of financing the sections as toll roads.

The governor's order Tuesday came on top of a recent refusal of the Highway Construction Council to approve at this time the Highway Department's request for authorization to spend more than five million dollars for the plans. The council asked the Highway Department to furnish more information on the overall Ohio highway construction program and the effect a federal highway bill now pending in Congress will have on that program.

Effect Not Clear

It was not known immediately what effect the governor's order would have in view of the council's failure to approve the earlier Highway Department request.

In his instructions to the Highway Department, the governor ordered plans and specifications prepared for an 82.3 mile leg from Conneaut to the east-west toll turnpike south of Cleveland and a 34.2 mile stretch from the northern end of the Millcreek Expressway in Cincinnati to Ohio 741 just south of Dwyers in Montgomery County.

Toll Possibility Out

The governor had this to say about the situation:

"The Highway Construction Council was hesitant about providing money to finance the preparation of plans and specifications for the north section unless assured that at present there were no prospects of building that highway as a toll road.

"My belief is that when they learn definitely that in the face of the present bond market there is no possibility of financing that project as a toll road they will see the wisdom and the need of building it as a general highway of the state of Ohio."

"With respect to the Cincinnati

Blair was one of three generations of attorneys. His father, Park B., was Knox County's first resident Common Pleas Court judge. His son, Barton Jr., now is Mount Vernon city solicitor.

Coal Pipeline May Be Ready In Late August

RAVENNA (AP)—Workmen laying the world's first liquid coal pipeline have bogged down in mud in Portage County, but they hope to finish the 110-mile job by late August.

They have more than half completed the underground 10-inch line to carry "slurry"—pulverized coal in water—from mines near Cadiz to a power plant east of Cleveland.

The coal will be pulverized and mixed with water at a plant at Georgetown southeast of Cadiz, and piped to the power plant at Eastlake, on Lake Erie. Enroute, there will be three pumping stations, at Cadiz, Carrollton and nearby Atwater.

When the line is opened it will be operated by six men—two at each pumping station—and it will deliver 1,300,000 tons of coal a year, operating 24 hours a day.

Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal Co., which has a 15-year contract to deliver coal by pipe to the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. power plant, says it will beat the high cost of hauling it by truck or rail.

With dry weather, the 500 pipelayers can progress at up to 2½ miles a day, said engineer Eric G. MacKay.

Dayton Boy Takes His Problems to Highest Authority

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)— "Telling city hall" about a problem may be OK for adults, but one young Daytonian believes in a higher authority.

He wrote this letter, addressed to "Haven":

"Dear God:

"Don't let Mrs. — be up to school next year and the other eighth grade teachers. Please make John G. be in my room and let me get a job this summer.

"Yours truly,

"Jerry."

The letter, in which a penny was enclosed, won't be delivered. Postal authorities marked it "insufficient address."

Union Seeking To Stop Auto Lite Plant Walkout

CINCINNATI (AP)—The business manager of the International Assn. of Machinists said Tuesday he hopes to get a striking local at Electric Auto Lite's plant in nearby Evendale to reconsider its walkout.

Alvin Steil, said that members of two other locals within the machinists' union at the plant voted "more than two to one" to forego wage increases for a year.

The company warned last Monday that the plant may close down permanently if the present union contract is not extended for a year without wage increases. Officials said the plant has lost money for 2½ years.

Production has been halted nine days in the walkout. Locals who voted Tuesday not to press new wage demands represented maintenance and boiler house workers. The local which has not considered the matter since a June 11 strike vote represents tool and die workers.

Songwriter Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Songwriter Lester Lee, 51, best known for his "Pennsylvania Polka," died Tuesday after a heart attack.

Lee, who wrote songs for many Broadway musicals before coming to Hollywood, was nominated for an Academy Award in 1954 for the song "Blue Pacific" in the movie "Sadie Thompson."

He leaves his widow Elpha and two sons, William, 20, and Jan, 10.

MARS MAKING NEIGHBORLY 'VISIT.' Scientists are making arrangements for an all-summer study of the planet Mars which, on Sept. 7, will be closer to the earth than it has been since 1924. The "black-light" mural (top), prepared by the American Museum-Hayden Planetarium, New York, shows Mars with its polar "cap" and the faint geometric markings sometimes called canals. Very close approaches occur only when Mars' opposition coincides with its perihelion (P); the point in its eliptical orbit at which it is closest to the sun. When opposition coincides with Mars' aphelion (A), the point at which it is farthest from the sun, the planet's opposition distance from the earth is also the greatest.

Church Merger Up for Action Following 14 Years of Debate

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Congregational Christians convened today at a crucial point in the life of a church that grew up with America.

Up for decision — and perhaps stormy debate — is a proposal to unite this independent-minded old church of the Pilgrims with a long-time Christian neighbor, the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The two would become the United Church of Christ, and the name "Congregational" — first applied to the early New England churches about the time of the American Revolution — would officially be no more.

The plan, simmering for 14 years and threshed through the style of congregationalism, has generated some climactic heat as the final steps near.

About 3,000 church representatives and officials are here for action by the church's top policy-making body, its General Council.

Although past votes by the council and the 5,561 individual congregations have indicated only minority opposition to the merger, recent weeks have produced some impassioned protests.

"Attitudes resembling those of Civil War have developed in our Congregational Christian fellowship . . ." says a letter of objection circulated by Dr. Marion J. Bradshaw of Bangor, Maine, theological seminary.

A committee against the union, headed by the Rev. Malcolm Burton, of Pontiac, Mich., has submitted proposed legislation to specify that individual churches won't be bound by council action.

No congregation would be considered part of any denominational union except by the congregation's own "voluntary action freely taken," the amendment states. It threatens new court fights if it isn't approved.

Jurors Disagree, Retrial Is Studied In Columbus Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Assistant Franklin County Prosecutor Malcolm M. Prine says there will be a decision soon on whether or not to retry Charles Ortman, 23, of Columbus, charged with first degree manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Delores Lanning, 27, also of Columbus.

The first trial ended Tuesday when the jury of nine women and three men told Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds they could not reach a verdict after four and one-half hours of deliberations.

Mrs. Lanning, nude and dying, was found in an alley here last April 17. Ortman testified he met the woman in a bar, took her to the garage back of his home "where she got sick" and then left her in the alley.

Fears of 'Subversive' Label Hit by Methodist

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—Fear of being labeled "subversive" has kept many pastors and church people from giving "a clear call for these things that make for world peace," Dr. T. C. Mayer, Steubenville District superintendent, told the opening session of the North-East Ohio Methodist Conference Tuesday.

Dr. Mayer, who was presenting a report for the eight district superintendents of the conference, said, "In a world that is on the verge of committing suicide through the use of H-bombs and guided missiles, church people are more interested in personal peace of mind than in world peace."

Galion Council Claim Is Paid By Insurance

Group Okays Free Lights, Establishes Rules for Ball Park

GALION — Acceptance of payment of two claims for damage to Galion's Municipal Light plant before operations there were discontinued was authorized by City Council Tuesday night along with passage of three ordinances and other resolutions.

Service Director Floyd Steffee was authorized to accept payment in settlement of a claim for replacement of economizer tubes in the amount of $874.47 and for the repair of damage caused by the explosion of a turbine at the plant in the amount of $3,141.27 from the Travelers Insurance Company.

City To Issue Notes

Two of the three ordinances passed pertained to street improvements. One authorized the issuance of notes in anticipation of the issuance of bonds for improvement of McDonald Ave., in the amount of $17,700 and for Wilson Ave., $9,350, by installing storm drainage, concrete curbs and gutters, and hard surfacing.

The other ordinance was for the issuance of bonds in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for construction of sanitary sewers on Kelly and Allen Sts.

A third ordinance passed authorized the service director to advertise for bids for the sale of property of the city no longer needed.

Council passed a resolution establishing rules for use of lights at the East Side Park ball diamonds. This followed a petition asking that electric lights be furnished free by the city for night games by certain groups at the park and protesting that three dollars per hour was too much for teams to pay for lights.

The resolution by Council provides that current will be furnished by the city free for organized church, lodge and industry leagues of the city. The leagues must conform to rules and regulations as follows: time limit for softball game shall be one hour and 40 minutes for a seven-inning game with a charge of $3.00 per hour for time over this limit; time limit for a baseball game shall be two hours and 40 minutes for a nine-inning game with a charge of $3 00 per hour for time over this limit; there will be no current for practice and warm-up periods.

Charges for Some Games

Any organized home team that brings in an out of town team to play under the lights shall pay a total of $3 50 for softball game and $4 50 for baseball game. On an open night in the park schedule, two out of town teams may use diamond lights at a rate of $3.50 per hour

Lights shall be turned off at 10 30 p m , for softball and at 11 p.m., for baseball games. If one team becomes 12 runs ahead of another team at the end of five innings, the game shall be terminated at once. No admission may be charged to game when current is furnished free by the city with exception of special benefit games.

The city engineer was requested to establish proper grades on Arlington Ave , from the Bucyrus Rd., north to the city limits, in another resolution.

Mayor Francis Schalip told councilmen that 78 parcels of land on which the city was paying tax two years ago, are expected to be exempted from taxation in the near future. He also reported that estimates of the cost of cleaning Whetstone Creek are being sent to property owners, and this work will soon be done. The cost is expected to be small, he said.

Small Michigan Town Proud of Mobile Band

CUSTER, Mich. (AP) — The Brandenberg and Buffenbarger band, its founders proudly say, it like no other band in the land. It plays in parades but the boys don't like to march. So a neighbor pulls them in a tractor and wagon.

The eight-man band was organized by Dewey Brandenberg and Bill Buffenbarger just because they figured this western Michigan village (pop. 260) needed one.

They like to boast that their music may not be good but it's loud. The band was practicing in Brandenberg's garage once when a windstorm blew away the roof and two walls.

"At least I guess it was the wind," said Brandenberg "But I'm afraid we loosened that building up considerably with our practicing."

Wetherby Joins With Clements

New Setback Handed Chandler in Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky (AP)—Gov A B Chandler's reaction to a shaking new setback was the major question today as Kentucky Democrats girded for November's double-barreled senatorial election

Lawrence Wetherby, a Louisville attorney who preceded Chandler in the executive mansion, joined forces with Sen Earle C Clements, his political ally, as a Democratic nominee

Chandler has been at odds politically with both men since last year's gubernatorial primary — a factor which sets a strange stage for Democratic efforts to gain the two seats

As a powerful dispenser of patronage, Chandler apparently still holds a strong bargaining hand in the upcoming state convention of the party

Whether he will pitch in for party harmony in the face o his newest reversal is a question of prime political interest, however

The Clements-controlled state Democratic Central Executive Committee nominated Wetherby Tuesday to run for the remaining four years of the late Sen Alben W Barkley's term

Just the day before, the governor had named his friend and adviser, Joseph Leary, to serve until the November election He indicated Leary was his choice for the November nomination

Chandler declined to discuss the committee's action or to say how he would stand in the campaign

Writers of Westerns Prepare Get-Well Gift for Eisenhower

By JOHN B. CURTIS

SANTA FE, N M (AP)—The Western Writers of America—a dedicated group whose members sometimes feel misunderstood —are preparing a getwell offering of their own books for their top fan, President Eisenhower

An estimated 50 to 60 autographed books by authors, who include some of the country's best known Western Writers will be sent to the convalescing President along with the best wishes of the group.

Bill Gulick of Walla Walla, Wash, president of the association said

"Of course, since it is an election year, we wanted no political implications Since we were conventioning in Santa Fe, it seemed logical to ask some New Mexico figure to make the presentation to Mrs Eisenhower So we asked Sen Clinton Anderson if he'd be willing He answered that he would be delighted to see that the President gets the books"

The President reportedly has read Westerns for years

The association was formed four years ago to bring the scattered writers more closely together for discussions of such problem

vision, the movies and the expanding field of the paper-backed books

'Of course we resent such publicity as the psychiatrists who try to explain why people read Westerns," Gulick said

"Westerns certainly are a legitimate field for pure entertainment

'Sometimes a Western goes more than that, such as when A B Guthrie wins a Pulitzer Prize But when books appear like Guthrie's 'The Way West and The Big Sky' or Milton Lott's 'The Last Hunt,' the critics call them literature, not Westerns,"

Both Ends Against the Middle

Even the slowest learner in the introductory course in economics can see at a glance that the government of Egypt has maneuvered itself into a perfect bargaining position against both the United States and the Soviet Union.

The latter is reported to have made a firm offer to finance nearly the entire cost of the Aswan Dam which would revolutionize the Egyptian economy by freeing it from the handicap of a perennial water shortage. The United States and Great Britain also has been holding out the hope of underwriting the Aswan Dam project.

But except for the doubt that lingers over the Soviet Union's own economy's ability to support foreign aid on such a vast scale, the offer reportedly made by the new Soviet foreign minister, Dimitri Shepilov, is clearly more attractive for Egypt than the U.S.-British offer.

Its attractiveness is enhanced, moreover, by Foreign Minister Shepilov's explanation that his government does not intend to make trouble between any of the Arab countries and the Western powers. That is a statement made for foreign consumption. It amounts to an invitation to all countries to look to Moscow for foreign aid in the future as well as Washington —the boldest declaration to date of the new Russian policy of making friends for Communism instead of stiffening the backs of its opponents by making enemies.

Egypt apparently has been picked for the first large-scale demonstration of the most baffling Soviet move yet to challenge the statesmen of the Western powers.

The Egyptians can play both ends against the middle.

No More Throttlebottoms

If you, too, have been uncertain about vice presidents of the United States, a proposal that probably will be passed by Congress next year may settle your mind.

The House Judiciary Committee is in bipartisan agreement that a new law should be passed to give the vice president the power to decide when the president is unable to carry on the duties of the presidency. President Eisenhower has asked for such a specific law, to clear up a question that has never been answered and might have had to be answered twice during his first term.

Passage of such a law by the 85th Congress would put an end to the Throttlebottom tradition of the vice-presidency. Future vice presidents would be understudies for the biggest job on earth, not fifth wheels, as all of them had been up to the time of Richard Nixon.

They would be chosen as much for their sympathy with the presidential viewpoint as for their vote-pulling ability. No presidential candidate would hold still for a running mate chosen because his views were opposite from those of the head of the ticket, a dodge that has been used more than once to smooth over a party split. For the first time, a vice president would be in law what he always has been in fact — the counterpart of the president, with clear authority to decide in his own right when he should assume the full presidential duty.

Who's Neutral?

When President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles threw diplomats into a tizzy by getting their signals mixed on neutrality, there was a strange silence about a lesson learned twice by the United States.

Before World War I and World War II, this country bent over backward to stay out of war. It called its back-breaking effort "neutrality," though it was really nonintervention. The United States believed it could avoid war by staying on good terms with both sides while war was developing.

It was wrong both times. It learned twice that nonintervention encouraged an aggressive Germany to go to war in the belief the United States would not take sides.

But there was no neutrality. The United States did not feel neutral.

Today, there is no talk about nonintervention. The theory that this country can stay out of war by not taking sides has been abandoned. If a third World War happened, the aggressor would have no illusions about the United States. It would be involved.

When Secretary of State Dulles called neutrality "an obsolete and an immoral and shortsighted conception," he was stating modern U.S. policy. When President Eisenhower said history justified neutrality, he was stating something no longer true of his own country, even though small countries may cling to the theory that they can stay out of war by staring out of alliances with countries that may get into war.

Labor Vote Myth

By David Lawrence

Detroit Survey Discounts Union Influence

Is there such a thing as a "labor vote"? Or do workers vote and react to political issues and candidates in much the same way as any other segment of the electorate?

Lawrence

Some interesting answers have just been revealed in a study of the political behavior of members of the United Automobile Workers Union as derived from interviews in the Detroit area conducted before and after the 1952 election. The survey was financed by the auto workers union through a grant of funds to Wayne University. The results are presented in a book entitled "How Labor Votes" which was written by three researchers —Arthur. Kornhauser, Albert J. Mayer and Harold L. Sheppard.

In the main, the study can be interpreted as confirming a view held by persons with long-time experience in politics who have felt that relatively few voters are swayed by labor legislation and by specific labor issues which the small minority of union officials and those immediately occupied with labor-union affairs may regard as paramount but which the rank and file do not.

THOSE INTERVIEWED revealed that 89 per cent had voted in 1948 for Mr. Truman and 11 per cent for Mr. Dewey. But in 1952 this changed so that only 75 per cent voted for Mr. Stevenson and 25 per cent for Mr. Eisenhower. This was a concentrated area, and the Gallup survey figures show that the workers gave a far bigger percentage to Mr. Eisenhower on a nationwide basis.

But it is interesting to examine the reasons for the shift in the Detroit area, where it is evident from the results of the new study that labor-union issues as such played a secondary part.

It was the Korean War rather than any feeling about labor-union issues which motivated the workers who, when interviewed in 1952, said they intended to vote for Mr. Eisenhower.

In fact, "employment, security and prosperity" was designated as second in importance by these same Eisenhower voters. Actually, less than one per cent of this group showed any interest in issues described as "labor problems, interests of working people, labor versus big business, repeal of Taft-Hartley Act."

WHAT WAS CITED as important to them as issues, which presumably caused them to shift from the Democratic side, was the Korean War. This got a 46 per cent rating, while "employment, security and prosperity" rated 13 per cent, and a variety of percentages were noted on other issues.

As for the workers who said they planned to vote for Gov. Stevenson, it is to be noted that such issues as "corruption, 'mess in Washington,' domestic communism, government waste and inefficiency, foreign policy, defense, and relations with Russia" seemed of little importance. As for the Eisenhower voters, they prominently mentioned all of these issues in answers to interviewers.

The after-election survey showed that 52 per cent of those who voted for Gov. Stevenson said they liked the Democratic party, its traditions and background and general attitude toward the workingman and people of low incomes.

Among the workers who had voted for Gen. Eisenhower, 34 per cent said the country "needed a change," and another 14 per cent said they had voted for Ike because he promised to end the Korean War. Another 34 per cent made mention of Gen. Eisenhower's experience in Europe and his general qualifications.

IT MAY HAVE BEEN the wording of the question after the election — which seemed to be directed to the personality of the candidate rather than a specific reference to the issues — but the tabulation of after - election interviews shows a marked drop on the importance of certain issues which were given high mention by a considerable number of those interviewed before the election. Thus, taxes, civil rights, domestic communism, and even foreign policy got far less attention than when the interviewers asked before election for an evaluation of their importance to the individual worker.

The new book makes this comment on the matter of incomes: "Contrary to the opinion of some political analysts, auto workers residing in better income neighborhoods voted Republican no more than those in less favored districts."

WHAT THE STUDY confirms, incidentally, is the theory concerning the party affiliation of the low-income groups — they are predominantly Democratic. The authors further say:

"Union people registered and voted in approximately the same proportions as the public at large, a phenomenon not usually observed in blue-collar groups. This would indicate that union efforts to get out the vote may have had some degree of success. One third of the membership did not vote, however, even though the great majority of these non-voters were legally eligible. . .

"Analysis of the workers' replies to questions asking about campaign issues indicates that the Stevenson supporters were inclined to emphasize labor's interests and economic conditions affecting working people while Eisenhower voters leaned more toward an emphasis on Korea and foreign relations and on economic issues seen by taxpayers."

The writers of the book, which is published by University Books, Inc., of New York, think "the trend may be toward a type of political program that is broad in scope, aiming to satisfy workers' varied tangible and intangible wants and at the same time keeping the general welfare prominently in view."

THIS IS BUT another way of saying that workers are not always labor - union conscious when they vote and are far more affected by broad issues. All the efforts which the Republicans may make by trying to outdo the Democrats in giving special privileges to labor unions will hardly swing an election if there's a depression or a threat of war or corruption or any other issues that hurt the party in power.

Conversely, with "peace and prosperity" under a Republican regime, these broad issues tend to shift enough votes from the ranks of the workers who are normally Democratic to be of substantial help in assuring a Republican victory.

Lola, the Poor Working Girl

By TRUMAN TWILL

As a lifelong friend, confidant and admirer of the poor working girl, my eye keeps wandering back to some statistics about her terms of survival.

If she has made her pitch in New York City, for example, it will take $2,615 a year to keep her going. That means $50.30 a week and no time lost.

Although the chick could live for less than that, the New York state department of labor says she could not maintain her self-respect and compete successfully with other poor working girls for any less.

The minimum must be accepted as close to a rock-bottom figure in view of a report by the department of labor in the state of Washington two years ago that a poor working girl away out there needed even more than the $2,615 needed currently in New York City — $2,644.

These nearly-alike figures reflect only the minimum needed for the support of one poor working girl. There is no room in them for the support of anyone else, which makes them a standard of comparison for poor working girls the country over.

A quick check among nearby working girls reveals what may be the key to working-girl wages. It is what they can afford to work for. If they have a low-budget operation to give them leeway, such as being able to live at home, they will work for fewer peanuts in the hope of getting more some day.

In other words, the minimum wages cited for New York City and the state of Washington are not subsistence income. They are [illegible] they are the cient working girl on first base and keep her there.

They have bearing on what this columnist believes is the most significant thing going on in the United States, although it never seems to wrinkle the brows of the deep-dish ponderers — the addition of feminine energy to the working force of the United States on a competitive basis.

This may well be the thing that distinguishes the civilization of the United States from other civilizations in the 20th century. It may be the biggest single factor in the incredible productivity of American enterprise and the unique level of demand for goods produced here. Nowhere else on earth do women compete with men for buying power the way they compete in the United States.

Then there is the idea that in the next 100 years women will make the varsity in areas of competition where only a handful of them now make the effort — in the sciences. They will become the handlers of mental chores once left almost exclusively to men. There literally is nothing women cannot do if given the chance to develop their potentialities.

As a lifelong friend and champion of working girls, I can hardly wait to see how things will be going by 2056. By that time there will have been a woman president of the United States and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff may be a female graduate of one of the military academies.

Lola the poor working girl is on her way.

In love of home, the love of country has its rise —Charles Dick-

Reminders of Washington 'Mess'

By Raymond Moley

The conviction in a Federal Court in St. Louis of Matthew J. Connelly and T. Lamar Caudle for conspiring in behalf of an income-tax dodger will refresh memories of what the nation lost when Harry S. Truman left the White House. It took plenty of time to accomplish this final revelation of guilt, but apparently it was inevitable.

These men were not insignificant members of the Truman administration. Mr. Connelly as the appointments secretary of the President enjoyed a position ideally suited to the exercise of great influence.

As anyone might guess, access to the President is eagerly sought by thousands of people with axes to grind. And for the inestimable privilege of grinding those axes, many would be willing to pay a great price. Now a jury has informed the nation that the man in that strategic spot was not a good and faithful servant.

MR. CAUDLE, despite his clownish activities, was also in a vastly important spot as assistant attorney general in charge of the Tax Division. He, too, according to the jury, was not to be trusted so far as influence was concerned.

This incident reminds us that one great distinction between the campaign this year and the one in 1952 is that the Democrats will not be running against Herbert Hoover's 1932 administration but against Harry S. Truman's 1952 administration.

This is a very considerable difference because in the case of the Hoover administration the most that could be said was that a Republican regime was unable to cope with an economic blight. In the case of Truman's administration there was not only corruption but a revelation at the top of a callous denial of responsibility.

THE GRIM RECORD of the misdeeds of the members of the Truman administration has been set forth cogently and fully in a remarkable book, "The Truman Scandals," by Jules Abels, published by Henry Regnery.

When this book was published some weeks ago, a copy was sent to the ex-President himself, presumably in the hope that it would elicit one of the priceless Truman epistles of condemnation. This hope was at least partially fulfilled. A letter came back to the publisher on the Truman stationery from the ex-President's secretary. It informed Mr. Regnery that Mr. Truman had received the "scandal book" and that it was examined by him. The ex-presidential conclusion was that it was a comprehensive collection of lies, etc.

A QUOTATION from the conclusion of the book, however, is in order as we witness the record now brought to a climax by the Connelly-Caudle conviction:

"The frauds were not only epidemic, but they were also a disease endemic to the Truman administration. It was a necessary and natural consequence of a philosophy of government, which was in essence political. . . The pragmatic thesis which underlay it was the purpose of winning the next election. It was built around big city machines; it not only cooperated with those machines, but nurtured and fattened them."

It will be well to note carefully in the coming campaign where those same machines find their place. Will they once more gather behind a Democratic nominee ready for the killing and the feast that will follow? And will it be sufficient for the candidate who will be chosen no doubt, with the hearty endorsement of the ex-President, to exhume, as did Candidate Stevenson in 1952, the classic sophistry of Charles Evans Hughes that "Guilt is personal and knows no party"?

A party, despite the Hughes assertion, is a responsible body and in this instance it must be judged by its vigor in ridding public service of bad people. Under that standard the party which nominated and elected Harry S. Truman is responsible not only for what happened before 1953 but for the cynical manner in which it regarded revelations of wrong-doing.

Big Question Revived

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower's second physical crisis in nine months will force voters to think again of what they asked themselves the first time: Should he be given another four-year term?

The question does not arise out of lack of confidence in Eisenhower's honest opinion of what he thinks is best for himself and the country. He has said he will frankly say if he's not up to another four years.

But he is a man of 65, carrying the enormous burden of the presidency. He would turn 70 before the end of a second term. He has had two major illnesses within these nine months: a heart attack and an intestinal block

Because of the great public liking for him and trust in his judgment, questions about his physical fitness quieted down once he said after the heart attack that he felt he could stand another four White House years.

But now, in view of this second illness, voters cannot help asking themselves this question, even though he may again say he feels able to run for re-election:

Are these two illnesses so close together simply accidents that could happen to any man? Or are they signs of a physical weakening under the stress and strain of the presidency that may be repeated?

Eisenhower himself has said, "The presidency is probably the most taxing job, as far as tiring of the mind and spirit . . . My future life must be carefully regulated to avoid excessive fatigue."

HIS DOCTORS have said he will not be able to resume his full duties for at least a month. This means—counting 3½ months after his heart attack — that for 4½ months in a year he could not function fully.

The doctors have said there is no connection between the two illnesses, and they have been almost enthusiastically optimistic about his ability to run again. And Eisenhower has shown remarkable recuperative powers.

In fairness to himself and to the country he probably will wait until he is back on his job full-time before saying for the second time whether he will try for re-election.

That will be mid-July. Until then he will leave Democrats and Republicans with their tongues hanging out—but wagging—in opposite expectation.

The Once Over

Press Conference Prophecy

Q—Mr. President, have you decided whether, in view of your recent illness and operation, you will still make the race?

A—Well, as I promised you months ago, if the time comes when I do not feel fully fit to shoulder all the duties I will withdraw. I have not changed that pledge.

Q—Does that mean you are ready now to announce your attitude?

A—It means that, despite my operation, I feel perfectly able to handle the job. I feel better than before the operation and my doctors say I am a safer risk. They could write a book entitled "Inside Eisenhower."

Q—Have you no misgivings that a heart attack and a surgical episode within nine months must have weakened you?

A—My heart attack and my intestinal affliction were in no way related. Thousands of men go under much more serious surgery and recover with no thought of retirement. Some of my opponents have been under the knife—and I don't mean politically speaking—and appear to be planning on an active future.

Q—Nevertheless isn't it possible that what you have been through can sap the vitality needed on your job in a time of world crisis?

A—I think I may say, without immodesty, that as a soldier I have often been through ordeals that sapped vitality without giving me an urge to quit the fight. I might add that hundreds of thousands of American men and boys are being asked to risk health and wounds in the armed services to do what is asked for by their country. A President should do no less.

Q—Have you had any recent heart tests?

A—If these press conferences aren't a heart test I don't know what is.

Q—Do you plan to resume golf?

A—When I quit golf it will be the signal I am ready to quit work. I think that what the doctors did to me has taken a few strokes off my game Dr. Heaton, you know, is a golfing addict. I felt at home in his hands, even if his stance wasn't orthodox.

Q—Would you say his form was good?

A—He is precisionist who is at his best in a tough battle. He has no hook, but slices somewhat, obviously.

Q—Were you conscious of what he was doing?

A—Subconsciously I had an idea he kept his head down, didn't look up and get absolute accuracy despite the fact it was a new course to him. Under the ether I had an unpleasant dream. I seemed to be in a trap in an unplayable lie, surrounded by kibitzers, including some Democrats. The caddy gave the surgeon the wrong knife. . . it was pretty harrowing

Q—Do you plan to play golf with Dr. Heaton later?

A—As soon as the "Ground Under Repair" sign is off my anatomy.

Q—To sum up, then, your hat is still in the ring?

A—My hat, my cardiogram, my doctors' hats, and my desire to serve my country if asked to do so.

J. CAESAR PETRILLO, head of the Musicians Union, likes Ike and says he may vote for him. . . Nevertheless if Eisenhower uses a recording of such sweet music he had better put in a stand-in drum-beater.

Family photos as living room decorations, with pop and mom in the panels, are being used in a co-operative treatment by Eastman and top flight decorators. . . It's a good idea, but the divorce rate being what it is, a lot of living rooms would have to be done over pretty often.

"The Proud and Profane" can give the young some pretty distorted ideas.

That report of dangers from X-ray, as made by top scientists, has Timid Thomas so scared he wears a shield passing dentists' offices.

Maybe the slow-up in the auto industry is due to the seemingly "incredible" conclusion of millions of Americans that they might not lose face if they kept the old car a second season.

Truman, Deeply Moved, Gets An Honorary Oxford Degree

By EDDY GILMORE

OXFORD, England (AP) — Harry S Truman, who was too poor to go to college today received an honorary degree from Oxford one of the world's most distinguished universities

Tears filled the eyes of the former U S President when Lord Halifax, chancellor of the university, conferred the degree of doctor of civil laws with this eulogy

Truest of allies direct in your speech and in your writings, and ever a pattern of simple courage "

Truman smiled, choked up, and then quickly whipped out a handkerchief and blew his nose

'Never never in my life," he whispered to a reporter did I ever think I'd be a Yank at Oxford'

He had explained to correspondents that his father s business reverses had prevented him from going to university after a boyhood on a Missouri farm

Asked by a reporter how many honorary degrees he had received Truman replied

'My God I must have a couple of dozen But this is really a big one'

The auditorium of Oxford's ancient Sheldonian Theater rang with applause as the degree was conferred It swelled in volume as Truman faced 94 crimson robed professors in the packed auditorium and flashed a broad smile

"I've attended a lot of these convocations' said an old professor after the house became quiet "I don t remember when there was ever so much applause Mr Truman is very popular in this country

Mrs Truman, sitting several rows behind her husband also wiped the tears out of her eyes

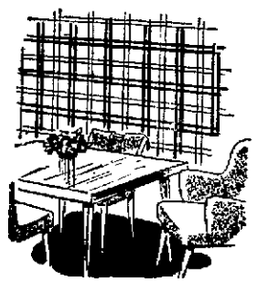
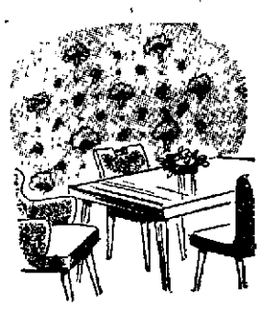
Avoid Off-Key Wallpaper

When choosing wallpaper, remember, no matter how much a particular pattern appeals to you, if it is not related to the other components in the room (floor covering, window treatment, and furnishings,) it can very easily throw the entire room off-key. Large patterns in vivid colors are dominating and usually not good in small rooms.





Choose Wallpaper To Enhance . . .

. . . the entire room. Use it to play up good architectural points and to subdue imperfections. Make it a backdrop that's in keeping with the style of your furnishings. Use quaint small allover patterns in Provincial rooms: scenics, delicate florals and classical patterns in Traditional rooms: geometrics, broken plaids, new modern designs in Modern rooms.

We try always to bring you furniture that will add charm and distinction to your home, comfort and convenience to your day-in-day-out living and your budget. So don't put it off any longer, come in and let us help you select the pieces that suit your living plans best.

Will Set Up 'President's Council'

Ike Promises To Back Youth Fitness Program

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — An important first step has been taken by American leaders who met here to consider ways of bettering the physical fitness of American youth in an age of automobiles and escalators.

A prominent group of youth leaders left a two-day conference on the subject today with assurance from President Eisenhower that he will follow their recommendation and establish a "President's Council on Youth Fitness." It would be composed of Cabinet members concerned with the problem and will coordinate activities of 35 federal agencies.

EISENHOWER ALSO said he would name a citizens' advisory committee to arouse in the American people a "new awareness of the importance of physical and recreational activity."

The President's concern over failure of American youths to pass a basic "minimum fitness" test which European youths breezed through resulted in the calling of the conference at the Naval Academy.

Making up the conference were persons prominent in sports, medicine, education and other fields.

In his letter to the delegates Tuesday night, the President said he believed the delegates shared his feeling that a good fitness program was essentially a home and local community problem, and that a federal program should not be necessary beyond the coordinating and encouraging of local efforts.

STUDY GROUPS at the conference also made these proposals:

Daily physical education programs in schools and better health instruction for every child.

More financial support for recreation and youth programs "which the nation not only can afford but cannot afford to deny." And all such groups in the community — schools, churches, social organizations and others — should cooperate.

Fitness programs should begin in the home, and adults as well as children should participate. Play areas should be set aside in homes for this purpose.

Automation Called Aid For Middle Workers

ANN ARBOR, Mich (AP) — A University of Michigan sociologist says automation and the atom will place more importance than ever on the middle class of workers.

Asst. Prof. Harold L. Wilensky said middle class salaried white collar and professional people will be joined by the blue collar factory worker who "already is merged in income and with automation will become more mental and less physically minded."

By JOHN CROSBY

The Craze

One thing about Elvis Presley, the convulsive shouter of rock 'n' roll songs — if that's what they are this may be the end of rock 'n' roll and just conceivably a return to musical sanity I mean where do you go from Elvis Presley?

JOHN CROSBY

The best description of Presley's performance on the Milton Berle show came from the chairman of the music department of Bryant High School, Harry A Feldman, who wrote Berle 'The guest performer, Elvis Presley presented a demonstration which was in execrable taste bordering on obscenity The gyrations of this young man were such an assault to the senses as to repel even the most tolerant observer

"When television entrepreneurs present such performers to millions of viewers and pronounce them great when such deplorable taste is displayed in the presentation of primitive, shoddy and offensive material, one begins to understand the present day attitude of our youth We in the classroom can do very little to offset the force and impact of these displays in our efforts to stem the tide toward a cultural debacle"

ABOUT THE ONLY GUY who ever summed up Elvis 'The Pelvis any better than that was the California policeman who after watching him writhe around a stage commented "If he did that on the street we'd arrest him"

The last appearance of this unspeakably untalented young entertainer brought forth such a storm of complaints both from the press and public that I imagine any entertainer would hesitate to try him again on television Even gentle old Ben Cross of The New York Daily News blew his top over this one I doubt that in the 30-odd years he's been writing that column Ben has ever gotten quite so angry

But as I say, where do you go from Elvis, short of open obscenity which is against the law? Popular music has been in a tailspin for years now and I have hopes that with Presley it has touched bottom and will just have to start getting better

WHERE DID THE degeneration of popular music start? You'd probably get a dozen different answers from a dozen different people My own theory is that it started just before the war when the radio networks battled ASCAP over the price they were asked to pay for the use of songs ASCAP pulled its music off the air and, since every composer of note was a member music on the air consisted either of stuff in the public domain or perfectly dreadful new music

Everyone and his Aunt Agatha thinks he can write songs and during that deplorable period they all trotted them out Songs that ordinarily would not have got past the receptionist at any reputable music publishers were not only published but played on the air

The public, particularly the teen age public, got a taste, for bad music that it hasn't lost to this day The good composers — Irving Berlin, Rodgers and Hammerstein and the like — had their songs forced off the air and with a few exceptions their songs are still off it

I AM HEARTENED by the fact that television is beginning to make fun of this absurdity The other night "The Hit Parade" did an unavoidable version of "Heartbreak Hotel' — after all, it was on the hit parade — with all the singers dressed as Charles Addams monstrosities

The same evening Goodman Ace on the Perry Como show wrote a very nice piece for his announcer He enunciated a rock 'n' roll lyric —than which there is nothing more inane — without benefit of music (if that's what it is) in the style of a commencement address It went something like this

"Digga boom
"Digga boom
"Digga
"Boom

And Bob Hope came out with a blistering little parody on hillbilly music which I found very entertaining If there's anything that will knock this craze into oblivion it's laughter — and the laughter has started

Complaints Heard By Councilmen at Bucyrus Meeting

BUCYRUS — Complaints from several citizens over various municipal problems were heard by city council during its regular meeting Tuesday night

Sam Moore, owner of the Roehr House restaurant, appeared before council to protest the erection of no parking signs on the east side of S Sandusky Ave He said residents of the area were in favor of parking on both sides of the street and that such parking had not created any traffic hazard

The no parking ban was instituted by Mayor Joe L Sullivan last week to comply with an agreement made with the state highway department several years ago The mayor told council last month that compliance with the agreement might enable the city to obtain state aid in the resurfacing of E Mansfield St

E K Brandstetter stressed the need of a north end sewer and was informed that the proposal is under careful study by council's finance and utility committees

Mrs Calvin Kehrer reported that she had six inches of water in the basement of her home Sunday and the matter was referred to Safety-Service Director C C Richard

A petition was presented bearing 98 signatures urging a three fold improvement at the city's reservoirs The petitioners requested that the water level be raised, rowboat fishing be permitted and picnic grounds be provided The petition was accepted and filed

Italy Described as a 'Paradise' For American Businessmen

ROME (INS) — Italy today was painted as a sunny paradise where American businessmen can 'live longer, make more money and work less hours" than in the United States

An Italian official put it this way For the tired American businessman, Italy is better than California or Florida The climate is mild the taxes are even milder"

The official who is working on plans to attract foreign — and particularly American — capital to Italy, listed a number of his country's economic advantages

1 Italy is riding the crest of an economic upswing Gross incomes increased seven per cent last year, five per cent during the previous year

2 Italy has vast undeveloped resources Some oil has been found in the south, more is expected There are also indications of uranium coal and other mineral deposits

3 In the south there is a fertile field for developing citrus fruit and vegetable production in conjunction with canning and frozen food industries that could be established Wheat and cotton has been grown successfully and dairy and meat production offers good potentials

4 Labor is cheap Italian workers are clever amenable And to clinch his sales argument, the official brought up two added inducements for the American investor The recently passed law permitting foreign investors to re export their profits and capital at will and the fact that Italy's tax is nominally a flat 32 per cent of profits

But foreign businessmen now operating in Italy had words of caution for enthusiastic business men who would rush into this paradise of profits and pizza pies

'On the books, Italy's capital levy of 32 per cent looks a lot better than America's 52 per cent corporation tax," an industrialist explained 'But when it comes down to brass tacks, it's a different picture"

The picture changes the industrialist said because Italian revenue agents can make it change at will Under local regulations, agents have a wide latitude in determining taxable profits of a company or an individual They often disallow important cost figures by saying that these costs were incurred as the result of a company's "bad judgment"

In addition, there are a number of additional taxes, such as those levied by local government-sponsored Chambers of Commerce, a three per cent transaction tax and a number of hidden duties that appear at various distribution levels

(Until recently there was also the possibility that American businessmen operating in Italy might be dunned for additional taxes in the United States But at present Italy and the United States are entering into a bilateral convention which eliminates double taxation)

Meanwhile economists analyzing the new Italian law on foreign investments have brought up some of its disadvantages Their main objection stems from a provision of the law forbidding foreign investors to seek additional capital in Italy

State Board Tells Crawford County To Transfer Land

BUCYRUS—The state board of education has approved a petition for transfer of 40 acres of land from Leesville School District to Galion City School and has ordered the Crawford County School board to transfer the property, County School Supt S K Sollars announced here today

The petition filed by Mr and Mrs Robert Tracht, Mr and Mrs Willard M Patterson, Mr and Mrs, M R Fischer Jr, and Franklin Craun, now must be acted upon by the Galion school board which has the final decision in the matter.

Earlier this spring the petition had been rejected by the county board on the grounds that it was contrary to "its policy of preserving existing school districts'

At a hearing in Columbus last month, Mr Tracht told state board representatives that the county had rejected his petition for transfer five times in the last eight years The transfer also was opposed by the Leesville School Board

The petitioners requested the property transfer to permit their children to attend school in Galion The tax valuation of the land involved in the transfer amounts to $12,890

Ohio Would Be Hard Hit In Event of Steel Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—A steel strike—if it should come—would idle 120,000 workers immediately in Ohio.

A prolonged strike would throw additional thousands out of work as producers of metal products use up their steel supplies.

No one knows whether there will be a strike. The United Steel Workers and steel producers are negotiating now, and contracts expire June 30.

Ohio's role in the steel industry is a major one.

One-Fifth in Ohio

"Steel" Magazine, weekly metalworking journal published here, says one-fifth of the nation's steel producing capacity is located in Ohio. The Buckeye state has a capacity of 24,835,660 tons out of the country's total of 128,363,090 tons.

Ohio is second only to Michigan in sales of metal working products and it accounts for about one-eighth of the country's metalworking production The employes in metalworking industries — a term embracing steel mills, other metal producers and manufacturers and processors of metal products—outnumber those in any other state.

Results of Walkout

"Steel" said today these things would happen in Ohio if there were a steel strike:

Nineteen of the 20 steel producing plants would be affected, idling 120,000 of the 130,000 steel mill employes. The other 10,000 work in plants not organized by the United Steel Workers.

How long would Ohio steel stockpiles last after a strike began?

A few steel-using factories—not more than 10 per cent—would have to curtail operations in about two weeks. After that, there would be a steady decline in the number of plants able to operate. A few plants have stockpiles that would enable them to operate until October.

Stocks Unbalanced

Plants are cagey about the amount of steel on hand. Many plants have heavy inventories of finished steel products, but they are unbalanced. Stocks of light, flatrolled products are generally good, while structural shapes, plates and heavy tubular goods are scarce

If a strike lasts more than a month—the 1952 walkout was for 53 days—some plants will barter their surpluses for products of which they are short.

"Steel" estimates national inventories of finished steel at between 18 and 20 million tons with possibly 3 million tons held by Ohio plants.

Steel mills are planning for an orderly shutdown of facilities in case no wage contract is reached before the deadline.

It takes time to cool the coke ovens, the open hearths and the blast furnaces. From 24 to 48 hours are required to shut down a blast furnace. That means unless there has been a contract settlement, steelmakers would start banking fires a week from today and tomorrow.

Scrap shipments will be halted June 24, "Steel" said, to avoid excessive storage charges in event a stoppage occurs before cars can be unloaded.

Galion Official Tells of Park Improvements

GALION — Considerable improvement to Galion parks was reported today by Councilman William Amick. Three parks of the city are available with facilities for picnickers and various sports. Mr. Amick is chairman of the City Council committee of playgrounds, parks and recreation.

Heise Park, Galion's oldest, has had two new fireplaces built in the lagoon region and picnic tables placed there, Mr. Amick said. Four tennis nets have been contributed, he added, and the lagoon section has been beautiful with plants.

At the South Side Park, the newest in the city, a sewer line has been run into the park for rest room facilities, and a water line has been extended for these facilities and for a drinking fountain, the councilman pointed out. He said that cement block will be delivered this week to the park for construction of rest rooms. Fireplace and picnic tables are being made. Funds for some improvements have been raised by a park committee in the area. The Galion Realtors Board has made a contribution for the construction of a shelter house at this park, Mr. Amick noted.

Mr. Amick also said the East Side Park is being put in condition for ball playing. Attendance at Heise Park swimming pool has exceeded all other seasons so far, Mr. Amick reported.

The Right whale was so named because it was just right for whaling, with plenty of blubber, long baleen — and it floats after death.

Five Year Package will increase companies' employment costs 65 cents per hour worked ---17⅔ cents in First Year

The undersigned steel companies have offered the United Steelworkers of America the largest single pay package in the history of the industry.

The companies' offer covers wage increases and additional fringe benefits for workers over the next five years, amounting, by the end of that period, to a total increase of employment costs of 65 cents per hour worked. Of this sum, 17⅔ cents will be incurred in the first year.

Some important features of the companies' offer follow:

A Raise Every Year for Five Years

The offer provides for an increase in hourly wage rates averaging 7.3 cents on July 1 of each year for five years; ranging from 6 cents an hour to 12 cents an hour in each year, and totaling from 30 cents to 60 cents by the end of five years.

Protection Against Increased Living Costs

Improved Insurance Plan

The offer provides substantial increases in life, sickness, accident insurance, and in hospitalization benefits. Sickness and accident disability benefits would be increased from a flat $40 to a range of $42 to $57 a week. Life insurance would provide maximum basic coverage of $6,000 per employee. Hospitalization benefits would be improved and maximum allowances for surgical fees would be increased by 50 per cent. The cost of this program would continue to be shared equally by the companies and the employees.

Improved Pension Plan

The offer provides for higher minimum pension payments for employees retiring after October 31, 1957.

An Additional Paid Holiday and Liberalized Vacations

The offer provides for a seventh paid holiday and makes provision for liberalized vacation pay.

Effective Dates for Proposed Improvements

In addition, the proposal would provide compensation for cost of living increases which may occur during the life of the contract.

These proposals reflect our desire to assure steelworkers a continuous, progressive program toward ever-higher standards of living. . . . We believe these proposals are as fair to the workers as they could possibly be without being unfair to all other Americans, who also have a stake in the outcome of the negotiations.

Alfalfa Is One Of Ohio's Top Forage Crops

Alfalfa, it is said, is the most important forage and one of the major crops in Ohio. As such, care should be taken to maintain its growth and longevity.

According to scientists at the Ohio Experimental Station at Wooster, dry weather is the most important factor in prolonging the life of alfalfa stands As a matter of fact, says a recent bulletin, alfalfa can be cut four times or more in dry seasons without serious injury, the same cutting systems in a normal or wet year would destroy the stand in one season.

Mow On Schedule

It is important that the first cutting be made according to some schedule, the bulletin says. The theory is that the later the first cut is made, the better the stand is maintained. But, late cutting is not, it seems, consistent with high quality and both the percentage of protein and leaves in the crop decreases regularly from the middle of May to the end of June.

The farmer who feeds his hay to dairy cattle or most other livestock is interested in the total protein obtained per acre. Agriculturists agree that this does not differ greatly at any given date in June, but if three cuttings are to be made before a safe date in the fall the first cutting is best completed by June 21. Moreover, when both young and old stands are to be cut, old stands should be mowed first. Seedings, the experts caution, should be allowed to make all possible growth.

Latest Safe Data

The latest reasonably safe date for the final cutting, if the stand is to be maintained, is September 10. Mowing alfalfa later than this progressively reduces the stand and yield the following year, the bulletin points out. Alfalfa cut as late as October 15 leaves no cover to reduce heaving during the winter, but farmers can rectify this situation by covering the field with strawy manure.

For all practical purposes, three cuttings — the first of which has already, for the most part been made in Marion County, the second July 20 to 27, and the last the first week of September will give the largest amount of protein per acre consistent with reasonable maintenance of stands, agriculture researchers declare. Only in dry seasons is it safe to allow less than 40 to 45 days between cuttings, they caution.

FIRST IN OHIO

Dairy farming is the number one agricultural enterprise in Ohio. Cash receipts from dairying in 1954 totaled $241,366,600. This amounted to 22.1 per cent of total cash receipts.

Multiflora Rose Is Nature's Finest Living Fence

An Increased Interest Is Being Shown Among Marion Farmers

Ever drive down a country road in late April, May and early June and see great bushy shrubs loaded with small white flowers lining or bordering a field? If you wondered what it was and guessed that it might be multiflora rose, you were right. The bush is being planted in increasing numbers by farmers each year, as the significance of this shrub as both a means of conservation as well as a useful, permanent farm fence becomes increasingly obvious.

MULTIFLORA ROSE is a derivative of a Japanese shrub and the flower is, in consequence, known to some as the Japanese rose. It grows prolifically in good soil, attaining, if properly cared for, a maximum height of 10 feet and, oftentimes, a similar width. Its early growth gives it an umbrella appearance, with canes shooting up from four to six feet before their weight forces them to drop over. The ends of these canes, which often hang to the ground, may take root and grow if left in contact with loose soil.

Multiflora roses bloom each year from two to three weeks, beginning in late May and continuing through June. The blossoms are, for all practical purposes, gone by early July, having been displaced with clusters of red berries which remain on the bushes until new buds appear the following spring.

THE MOST significant thing about the multiflora is that because of its dense growth it is capable of providing a virtually stock-resistant fence. In fact, 1,000 plants are said to provide 1,000 feet of impenetrable fence through which the smallest of farm animals are unable to pass. Its growth can be controlled and it grows wherever tea roses are successfully raised.

Why the fuss over multiflora roses? The fact of the matter is that the county's farmers have discovered, after years of urging by soil conservationists and game protectors, that the rose does not inconvenience them when used as a fence. Furthermore, it serves as an excellent means of keeping streambanks from eroding, protects farm ponds and keeps livestock from impassible gullies. It is the best possible haven for wildlife and is particularly well adapted for field fence because of its ability to flourish in bright sunlight. Shaded multiflora does not do exceptionally well, experts say.

THE IMPORTANT thing with regard to multiflora is the fact that it must not, after it is planted, be left to fend for itself On the contrary, it must be cared for until it gets a good start. What's more, a seedbed is required at the outset for new seedlings. In Marion county, as elsewhere, this latter procedure should include plowing the ground in the fall and discing in the spring before planting.

In past years, the soil conservation service has been furnishing and planting seedlings of multiflora for farmers who would agree to care for them afterward. From now on, however, the service plans to provide plants to any farmer who is willing to do the planting himself, with periodic checks made on the survival of the seedlings and new plants provided to take the place of dead ones.

IT IS ALSO important that these roses be cultivated the first year to insure that weeds do not "take" the new crop A side dressing of a complete fertilizer like 5-10-5, at the rate of one pound every 40 feet, may be used as the soil is being prepared. The following year a side dressing of one pound of nitrate of soda for every 40 feet is of great help.

Because of the thorny characteristic of multiflora, stock will hesitate to browse on it. Consequently, the roses can be successfully raised in pastures On the other hand, care must be taken to protect the young plants in areas where they may be tramped out before attaining sufficient size and growth. Horticulturists say that loss of plantings in good soil is usually less than five per cent.

THE POPULARITY of the multiflora planting program in Marion county is evidenced by the fact that the number of farmers planting it the first time has not decreased appreciably since the state began helping farmers get their living fences started in 1951. Six farm operators undertook the program in 1951; five in 1952; three in 1953; four in 1954; five in 1955. This year's five new cooperators include Emerson Klinefelter and Wade McMahan, both of Richland Township; Merle Thomas and Earl Johnson, both of Prospect Township; and S C. Wolf, a Hardin County resident, but a co-operating member of the Marion Soil Conservation District.

Conservationist Jim Thatcher says that care after planting is, without question, the primary consideration if multiflora is to flourish and give satisfactory performance as a growing, live fence! "Given an even break," he says, "it can give you more satisfaction than you can imagine. Furthermore, you don't have to think about repairing it every year or worry about tightening it every so often."

"MOST FARMERS want to see wildlife preserved as much as possible," Mr. Thatcher says. "It's better all the way around. Multiflora is the best thing to come along in years for saving our state and county's wildlife while also performing a service in return," he adds.

W. L. Williams, soil conservation agent in Marion county, points out that multiflora is unsurpassed as a soil saving control and declares that the net result of planting and caring for the live fence more than makes up for possible inconvenience at the outset.

MULTIFLORA ROSE is shown above in full bloom and as a permanent growing fence. Marion County Game Protector James Thatcher shows the comparison of his height (six feet plus), to that of the fence. This rose growth is on a farm operated by LeRoy Brien in Grand Township. Mr. Brien has two other fences already started on the farm and is highly enthusiastic about making use of a live fence. Below is a view of how newly-planted multiflora seedlings must be taken care of if they are to flourish and prosper. S. C. Wolf, Hardin County farmer, has already cultivated the two rows of rose seedlings once and will continue the process until the plants are able to withstand competition from weeds. Even then the best policy is to keep weeds down as much as possible.

County Youths Are To Benefit From Gilt Plan

In an effort to give rural youths an opportunity to learn more about livestock management in general and purebred swine herdsmanship in particular, the Marion Chamber of Commerce's agriculture committee, Roy Holdridge, chairman, has entered into a contractural agreement with eight boys and one girl in the county.

The plan which has been running approximately 10 years, calls for the committee to furnish each youth with a purebred gilt on the condition that they raise and care for same in accordance with specific conditions, as follows:

1. Properly feed a balanced ration and, if possible, keep the gilt in a pen by herself.
2. Follow management practices recommended by the Ohio State University college of agriculture
3. Practice the McLean County sanitation system
4. Breed the gilt to a registered boar of the same breed as the gilt between Nov. 1 and Dec. 15.
5. Vaccinate litters for hog cholera.
6. Prepare and show the sow at the county fair. The sow is not eligible if she has not farrowed.
7. Earmark each pig within 10 days after birth and keep accurate and complete feed and expense records on the gilt and her first two litters. Such records to be filed with the Chamber of Commerce when the pigs of each litter average 200 pounds.
8. Return to the Chamber cash equivalent to the market value of a 225-pound minimum weight hog, or the original cost of the gilt
9. Have any changes in above terms agreed to by the committee
10. Register all gilts and boars with the breed association. When all stipulations are met, the committee proposes to let the individual keep the gilt and the remainder of her litters.

Youngsters who have been made recipients of pigs this year include Charles and Larry Knickel and John Woods, all of Marion; Robert Redd, Gary Christian and Donna Clayton, of LaRue; Charles Russell, Prospect, and Larry Harrison and John Kalb, New Bloomington.

STORES MORE WATER

Sweet Corn Is Hard To Spray

WOOSTER—Horticulturist E K. Alban of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, warns growers of sweet corn about certain hazards in using 2, 4-D to kill weeds in their crop.

Most important factor, Mr Alban says, is to watch prevailing temperature and rainfall conditions Research shows that as long as day and night temperatures average from 60 to 70 degrees, sweet corn will tolerate recommended rates of 2, 4-D, he adds.

But, when average temperatures climb to 80 to 85 degrees with good rainfall, most sweet corn varieties will show definite injury symptoms. Yields may be affected as much as 25 to 50 per cent.

Temperature at the time of spraying is not as important as the temperature and moisture condition in the week prior to spraying.

Growers should plan their 2, 4-D sprav problem to get most of it done by early June when it is likely to be cooler If the spraying has been delayed and temperatures are averaging in the middle to high eighties, growers may be further ahead not to use 2, 4-D, Mr. Alban concludes.

Timely Poisoning May Kill Off Slugs

COLUMBUS — Slugs are now having a heyday in vegetable and flower gardens, says D. Lyle Goleman, Ohio State University extension entomologist. These slimy, snail-like animals, which have no shell, have been reported feeding on various garden plants. They thrive under damp, moist conditions which have prevailed this spring. Few plants are not attacked, but slugs are especially harmful to flowers, and leafy vegetation, especially in the seedling stage.

Most feeding is done at night, or on cloudy days, but in case the plant has thick foliage, such as cabbage or lettuce, they may feed all day.

The control of slugs is difficult, Mr. Goleman says, since most of the common insecticides are not effective. He suggests baits containing metaldehyde and calcium arsenate as the active ingredients for the most effective control. Commercially prepared baits (containing metaldehyde) are available at garden supply stores Baits are most effective if applied after a rainy period when slugs are most active, the entomologist points out.

Value Exceeds Cost

Of the 63 billion dollars spent annually for food, approximately 15 per cent goes to purchase milk and milk products, according to the American Dairy Association. However, this 15 per cent buys 30 per cent of the family's nutritional needs, the association asserts

Marionites Can Aid Japanese Beetle Project

John W. Baringer, chief of the division of plant industry, has announced that the Ohio Department of Agriculture, cooperating with local officials and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, will place a number of metal insect traps in Marion during the next few days to obtain information on the occurrence and status of the Japanese beetle to aid in determining what control measures might be advisable.

Most of the traps will be placed in residential areas and Mr. Baringer asks residents to cooperate by allowing them to be placed on their properties for a period of approximately six weeks. Traps function best when placed in sunny locations at least 15 feet from host plants and residents should not move the traps, according to Ellwood Parrott, Marion County extension agent.

The Japanese beetle is a plant pest of distinction. It is most abundant and active during July and August. Adult beetles are about one-half inch long, are green and brown in color, with rows of white spots down each side of the body. They are heavy feeders, doing destructive damage to many plants and trees, including apple, peach, cherry, grape, corn, soybeans, linden, rose and hollyhock.

Soon after emergence, female beetles begin depositing eggs in the soil. After hatching, the grubs feed on roots of grasses and other vegetation, causing considerable damage to turf in lawns and golf greens. Japanese beetles overwinter as grubs in the ground.

Inspectators will carry credentials and Marion city police have been informed of their work, Mr. Parrott says.

Marion County's annual soil conservation field day was scheduled for Aug. 1 at the Carl E. Rider farm on Crissinger Road, two miles southwest of Marion, at a recent meeting of the supervisors of the Marion Soil Conservation District, according to Lloyd Williams, soils representative in Marion.

The day-long event will also include a county-wide 4-H tractor safety contest.

Boy Injured in Fall From Hayloft in Barn

A "pigeon hunt" Tuesday afternoon resulted in a broken right foot for 10-year-old Barry Everly of 345 Madison Ave.

He and some friends were hunting the pigeons in the hayloft of a nearby barn and Barry chased one out through an open door and fell several feet to the ground, said his father, City Policeman D. L. Everly.

Barry was confined to General Hospital today with his foot broken in three places.

Alfalfa Fields May Be Fertilized After Harvest

It stands to reason that farmers who have good crop yields and good livestock production have the highest incomes. It also, perhaps, stands to reason that the continued use of fertilizers year after year contributes to that annual high income.

According to the extension service at Ohio State University, at least 250 pounds or more fertilizer should be applied to an acre each year. This includes not only land put to row crops, the service points out, but acres utilized for permanent pastures and meadows used for hay and silage.

Now is a good time, extensionists say, to think about top dressing established alfalfa fields. These fields need fertilizer high in potash and the service recommends using 300 to 400 pounds per acre of 0-10-20, 1-10-30, or 1-20-20 yearly when the field is to be kept another year. This guarantees an increase in yield and lenghtens life of the stand when and if other management practices are good.

Fertilizers may be applied to alfalfa fields in early fall, spring or after any harvest.

Morrow Men To Start New Sheep Project

MOUNT GILEAD — Something new in the way of sheep projects is to be available for 4-H Club and FFA Chapter members in Morrow County, according to F. W. Dalrymple, associate county agent, and Lawton McClintock, Cardington vocational agricultural instructor.

A commercial ewe program is being developed in the county under the joint auspices of the Ashley Lamb Pool committee, Producers Livestock Association, County Vocational Agriculture Department, and the agricultural extension service.

As the program is being set up, a member takes a group of ewes numbering not less than five, which he keeps from breeding time through market date. A member may also have any multiple of five.

A committee will assist members in the selection of the sheep, with the project officially starting after the ewes have been bred to approved bucks. Most of the sheep are expected to be Westerns, though some may be native stock. The Westerns will cost approximately $25 per head.

Special training in sheep husbandry will be given members taking part in the program. Enrollment for the project will be completed July 10, with details to be discussed at a county-wide meeting in the court house in Mount Gilead Friday night, June 22.

Purpose of the event is to give young prospective farm people an opportunity to get a good foundational start in the commercial sheep business, according to the sponsoring groups.

Federal Court Rules Against Alabama Laws

Injunction Is Granted On Bus Segregation; Appeal Time Granted

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — City and state officials have nine days from today in which to appeal a federal court decision against bus segregation laws in Montgomery or see enforcement of the laws stopped June 29.

A three-judge federal panel in a 2-1 vote Tuesday issued an injunction against both the Montgomery and Alabama bus segregation laws. The panel suspended the injunction for 10 days, however, to allow time for its decision to be appealed.

The vote was the same by which the three jurists declared the laws unconstitutional June 5.

Officials Study Action

Officials said they would have to study the situation before deciding whether to appeal the case directly to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Negro attorneys who won the legal battle that came during Montgomery's half-year-old Negro bus boycott also said they were temporarily uncertain of their next move.

The federal judges said that a notice of appeal during the 10-day period would keep the injunction's suspension in effect until a new suspension order can be written to last until the appeal is decided.

If no appeal is made by June 29, the injunction will automatically go into effect.

Permanent Order

The order says city and state authorities are "permanently enjoined and restrained from enforcing . . . statutes or ordinances requiring the segregation of white and Negro passengers in the operation of public motor bus transportation facilities in the city of Montgomery."

Judge Richard T. Rives of the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans said if an appeal takes the case to the Supreme Court "a decision will probably not be made before early next year at the earliest."

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., president of the Montgomery Improvement Assn. that coordinates the boycott, said the "prevailing opinion" among MIA members is that most of the city's 50,000 Negroes will continue to shun city buses "until some definite action is taken" to end bus segregation.

Traffic Committee

if defeat of it would mean the committee was restricted from proposing some other modified plan, and Mr. Dowler ruled it would not.

It was understood today that several committee members voting against the two-underpass plan may present at Thursday's meeting an alternate proposal calling for an expressway through the city's west side paralleling the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks. This project is estimated to cost about a million dollars more than the downtown two-underpass plan, which was estimated at $2,500,000.

In last night's discussion on the two-underpass plan, Mr. Beverly wanted to know whether the city would be liable for any costs above the approximately $2,000,000 state highway department officials had said was allocated for Marion from a state $500-million bond issue for highway construction.

Subsequent discussion indicated this could not be determined immediately, and still later Mr. Beverly proposed the amendment to Lister's motion setting the top limit for the city's share.

Chairman Dowler pointed out that the committee had decided last Thursday that it would first discuss whether to accept the recommendations of the arterial report; if so, to discuss whether the city could afford the plan, and, if it could not accept or afford the plan, what if any alternates exist.

Calls Plan 'Utopian'

Mr. Courtright said he felt the order of discussion should be first to determine if the city could afford what he called "the Utopian plan" proposed in the arterial report.

He also asked Mr. Bigelow whether he felt the proposed plan in the arterial report would solve the congestion problem.

Mr. Bigelow said that after consideration of the problem he had decided that traffic congestion in Marion today can be solved by use of one-way streets without railroad underpasses, proper timing of street lights, regulation of railroad traffic and provision of adequate off-street parking facilities.

He said he further feels the city ultimately will be by-passed by the state highways and that a federal highway construction bill now pending in Congress may reduce the city's share of any construction costs

Declared His Opposition

In view of these and other "unanswered questions," he said he would vote against Mr. Lister's motion.

Mr. Dowler said he felt Mr. Bigelow should have passed this thinking along to the committee much earlier. He said the city administration received the arterial report on Feb. 29 but did not assemble the committee until May and therefore should have had its proposal regarding the report ready to contribute to the committee's deliberations from the beginning.

Mr. Bigelow said he had not made his suggestion earlier because he had not yet heard the committee discussions and had not determined what his stand would be.

Mr. Lister pointed out that a one-way street proposal three years ago was fought by the same persons opposing the arterial highway report plan.

Opposed One-Way Streets

Mr Hamor said that he was one of those opposing the one-way street plan three years ago because none of the affected businesses was contacted to determine their views on the proposals before they were made.

He said that if such a course of action had been followed, then, or on the current project, that many of the problems involved likely could have been solved "without public discussion."

Mr. Dowler said that Mr. Bigelow had declared that the city need not spend the $750,000 proposed in Lister's motion to solve the traffic congestion problem.

He said he felt if Mr. Bigelow would assume the responsibility of solving the problem without underpasses, "certainly neither the city nor the state should spend any money" for the proposed improvements.

Mr. Bigelow said it was his opinion the congestion could be solved without the underpasses and that he would stand by that opinion.

section, I do not believe there exists any doubt in the minds of the members of the Highway Construction Council that the monies for the making of the plans and specifications should be forthcoming."

The governor said the two sections could be tied together later either by toll roads or free roads, to complete a superhighway such as that recommended by engineers for the proposed north-south turnpike.

Backs Up Lausche

The governor was backed up in his estimate of the bond market by Dennis Murphy, a representative of the Ohio Co., a Columbus investment firm.

Murphy told the Ohio Turnpike Commission Tuesday it is not now feasible to finance the northern leg by bond issue.

James W. Shocknessy, commission chairman said it was desirable to build the northern stretch "as a freeway from appropriated funds." But he added that the matter would be open to reconsideration of the toll road plans "if it cannot be done as a freeway."

President Still Mum on Plans For Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's press secretary said today the President still has given no member of the White House staff any hint as to whether he will remain in the presidential race.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty also said that Eisenhower has no plans to send any message to a Republican group which will meet here Friday to make arrangements for the party's presidential nominating convention opening in San Francisco Aug. 20.

There had been some speculation that the President might disclose his future political plans to that group—the convention arrangements subcommittee of the Republican National Committee.

May Have Decided

On the other hand, the President's decision against sending any message to the group might mean that Eisenhower has decided to stay in the presidential race.

Hagerty said in response to questions last week that Eisenhower had not discussed politics or his personal political future with any member of the White House staff. Asked today whether that still was the case, Hagerty replied: "Yes."

A reporter noted that Eisenhower has had several private conferences with his chief aide, Sherman Adams. He asked whether Hagerty was able to say that in no instance had politics been discussed at such sessions.

"Yes I can," Hagerty replied "There hasn't been any discussion."

Nixon Only Outside Visitor

Hagerty noted that Vice President Nixon is the only visitor Eisenhower has had outside of his personal and official family and West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

He reminded newsmen that Nixon said categorically on Monday that he and Eisenhower talked no politics whatever. Hagerty added with a smile that Eisenhower did not discuss his political future with Adenauer

Eisenhower spent 45 minutes this morning on government business, with Adams working with him at Walter Reed.

The President signed nine bills passed by Congress, including measures providing appropriations for operation of the State, Justice, Judiciary and Commerce departments during the fiscal year starting July 1.

The President also allocated an additional $100,000 in connection with hurricane damage in North Carolina several months ago.

Four Men Top List of Possible Key Speakers

Democrats Seek Man To Give Major Talk At National Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — The names of three senators and a governor led the list today in speculation over the Democrats' choice of a national convention keynoter.

They are Senators Robert S. Kerr (Okla), John O. Pastore (RI) Hubert Humphrey (Minn) and Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee

There was no sign, however, that party leaders were anywhere near success in their search for a chairman of the Platform Drafting Committee. That group will swing into action Aug. 6 in Chicago, a week before the presidential nominating convention opens.

McCormack Declines Bid

Rep John W. McCormack (Mass), the House majority leader, has turned down the chairmanship because he now lists himself in the category of a favorite son candidate for top place on the ticket.

Several governors and senators have been under discussion in the hunt for a man who would use his influence toward adoption of a moderate civil rights plank calculated to keep all elements under the party's tent in the November election campaign.

Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (Tex) already has indicated he will take on the job of permanent chairman of the convention once again.

To Be Picked in July

Selection of the convention officers will come at a mid-July meeting of the party's Arrangements Committee, headed by National Chairman Paul M. Butler.

Kerr, who was picked by Franklin D. Roosevelt to keynote the 1944 fourth-term convention, was being urged for this year's role by some Democrats who want to avoid any sign of preference toward any of the party's presidential aspirants. Kerr has declined to make any public choice.

Pastore has won something of a reputation as a fiery speaker who might be calculated to bring the delegates to their feet.

Clement Able Speaker

Clement's friends have been working behind the scenes in an effort to land the keynoter plum for the 36-year-old governor. He has sparked many Democratic rallies in the past.

As an active supporter of Adlai E. Stevenson, Humphrey has opposition from backers of other candidates. He also figured prominently in civil rights debates which disrupted party conventions in 1948 and 1952.

The keynoter will speak on the first day of a proposed five-day convention outlined by Butler.

East Germany Offering Craft to Egypt's Navy

EAST BERLIN (NANA) — East Germany will supply a number of destroyers and submarines for Egypt to aid that nation in modernizing its naval forces, an authorative source here has disclosed.

Many Russian engineers and technicians are assisting East German workers in building the two destroyers and two submarines here that will make up the initial offer.

Russia has supplied installations and instruments to modernize three East German shipyards — Naptune at Rostock, Peene at Volgast and Warnow at Baltic.

The source said a group of Egyptian naval officers had recently visited East German shipyards on the Baltic coast.

Meany Backs Union Demand In Steel Talk

NEW YORK (AP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany says the steel industry has failed to "recognize the valid needs of the workers."

Meany sent his message Tuesday to steelworkers union President David J McDonald at union negotiations with the steel industry.

Meany also gave McDonald his "best wishes for a resounding victory" in the talks and said "the AFL-CIO stands squarely behind you in this fight."

Strike Authorized

The steel union has authorized a strike of its 650,000 members if a settlement is not reached before current contracts expire on June 30.

Joint talks between the union and the "Big Three" steel firms have been suspended in favor of individual negotiations with seven smaller companies.

No progress was reported in the sessions Tuesday. The talks resume today.

The seven companies are U S Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Inland, Pittsburgh and Allegheny Ludlum.

Offers Believed Similar

It is believed that the companies are proposing the same type of five-year, no-strike contracts, including annual wage increases and other benefits, offered originally by the "Big Three" firms. The Big Three are U.S. Steel, Republic and Bethlehem Average wage in the steel industry now is $2.46.

The union had asked a "substantial" wage increase, a 52-week layoff pay plan, premium pay for Saturday and Sunday work, an insurance plan to be paid by the companies and other benefits officials, allegedly went around "kissing all the girls," including wives of subordinates.

And Tuesday, a witness testified a Texas insurance firm lost a contract it had held with the agency since 1939 after ignoring a suggestion from McLeaish that it hire agents who were "Republican friends."

McLeaish's resignation was announced by James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary. Hagerty said Eisenhower hadn't asked for the resignation, but that "it will be accepted." Hagerty said he did not know whether Secretary of Agriculture Benson had demanded that McLeaish give up the job to which he was named three years ago

Native of Galveston

McLeaish, 57, is a native of Galveston, Tex.

The Farmers Home Administration, an Agriculture Department agency, makes various types of loans to farmers, including those to finance mortgages and for disaster relief.

McLeaish, it was known, conferred with Benson Tuesday. He reportedly looked glum when he left the meeting.

He described his resignation as voluntary. He said that for some time he had been suffering from hypertension — abnormally high blood pressure.

"This present situation doesn't help any," he added.

Mrs. Kathryn Carter, who formerly worked for the farmers home agency in Montana, testified Monday that at a state meeting two years ago McLeaish and Carl O. Hansen, then the agency's Montana director, became "highly inebriated."

Active in Private Business

She also said Hansen, who resigned in March, spent much of his time drumming up business for Draper & Co., a Boston wool brokerage firm. She used to be Hansen's secretary, but now works for the Forest Service.

Mrs. Carter, of Bozeman, told of the girl-kissing incident She said it happened during the three-day Montana state meeting in June 1954. She said, "Some of the husbands pulled their wives away," but that those who thought they might get a nice big fat job just sat and watched . . ."

Another witness, Floyd F. Higbee, said he saw McLeaish put away almost a fifth of whisky in a Denver hotel room after a meeting with Eisenhower on problems growing out of the 1954 drought.

Ousted From Job

Higbee testified he was forced out of his job as Colorado director after 20 years with the farmers home agency.

"I've never been with Mr McLeaish a full day or part of a day, during official hours, when he did not take a drink in excess," Higbee said

J M Ferguson Jr, president of the Houston Fire and Casualty Insurance Co., testified the agency canceled last September a contract under which his firm wrote policies to cover Farmers Home Administration Loans He contended a replacement contract — held, he said, by the Stock Companies Assn. — provides less coverage at higher rates.

As Ferguson told the story, McLeaish once asked him if the Houston firm could "change to agents who were Republican friends" Ferguson indicated he didn't take the hint. About a year and a half later, he said, the contract was terminated.

City Council Proposes Bans on Farm Animals

Dogs, cats and song birds won't be affected.

Senate Probe Under Way on Brainwashing

Third of All Captured Troops 'Collaborated' In Korea, GI Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigating senators sought explanation today for testimony that a third of all U S troops captured in Korea "to some degree collaborated" with the enemy under Communist brainwashing.

More witnesses were summoned by the Senate Investigations subcommittee in its exploration of the nature of brainwashing and how troops can be trained to resist it.

See Ways To Resist

Most witnesses in Tuesday's day long sessions said deep religious faith, a better knowledge of both Americanism and communism, and awareness of how brainwashing operates provide the best hope for resisting.

Capt. Bert Cumby, a Negro specialist on the Army adjutant general staff, gave the testimony that "roughly a third" of the 7,190 recorded U S. POWs yielded to some degree.

Cumby based that estimate primarily on his report that a third of the prisoners who first were forced to listen to "vicious" anti-American lectures continued attending them after compulsion was removed.

Information Checked

He said that information has been "checked all the way down the line" and confirmed

The fact a third of them "continued to give their presence to something designed for one purpose only, to discredit our country," Cumby said, shows they at least "to some degree collaborated" He said "hard core" Communist POWs encouraged them to attend.

to have broken out in an engine on the right wing. The craft quickly dived into the sea.

There were 64 passengers and a crew of 10 on the airliner. Eighteen of the passengers and two of the crew were Americans. One passenger was an infant.

A Navy transport ship, the Lt. Robert Craig, which sailed from New York at midnight for Bremerhaven, Germany, was directed to the crash scene and picked up the bodies.

An Eastern Air Lines plane crew also saw the flaming crash, as did a fisherman on the beach at Avon, N. J

Describes Sight

The fisherman, John Doman 45-year-old carpenter and a Navy veteran of World War II, said:

"I made my cast and when I came up the beach to tighten my line I saw this thing coming down."

He said it appeared to be 15 or 20 miles offshore and that it had a glare of light around it as if burning

"It plummeted down quite sharply and then seemed to level out in a glide. It seemed to hover there for 15 seconds and then it dipped again and went down"

The big plane was operated by the Linea Aeropostal Venezolana.

The Coast Guard said the airliner sank in water about 120 feet deep Weather at the scene at dawn arrived was described as good and the sea calm.

The worst previous disaster involving a scheduled airline flight came last Oct 6 when a United Airlines plane with 66 aboard smashed into a Wyoming mountain peak, killing all.

However, there was a greater loss of life when a chartered flight went down in Wales with 80 soccer fans in 1950

The death toll in two military plane crashes also was greater These involved a C12? with 129 servicemen, which plunged to earth near Tokyo in 1953 and another C124 which cracked up during a 1952 takeoff in Washington State

Linea Aeropostal Venezolana, the Venezuelan national airline, was founded more than 25 years

It won American Safety Council awards in 1949, 1950 and 1951 for operating without an injury or fatality of passengers or crew members.

Victims Include 2 Toledo Residents

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two Ohioans were victims of the Venezuelan airliner crash in the Atlantic Ocean early today, a relative in nearby Grove City reported.

They were Mrs Eileen Oursler, 30, and her 9-year-old daughter, Brenda of Toledo, a brother-in-law, Vernon Morrison said.

Mrs. Oursler was en route to Venezuela to join her husband, an employe of the United States Steel Corp. who had been in the South American country since February.

Mrs. Oursler and her daughter visited Morrison recently before returning to Toledo to prepare for the flight.

In flapper days, when you bought your ruckus juice in dimly-lit speakeasies, there were many who thought it just too, too fashionable to be seen around town with underworld characters.

VICTOR RIESEL

Along with clothes and hair-dos, social fashions change — and today the thing to do in some circles is to champion men who have long followed the Soviet line. Such a man, with many stylish friends, is Harry Bridges, still a powerful waterfront union chief. He can shut down western shipping as well as the wharves of the Hawaiian Islands — which, after all, is a military outpost second in importance only to the Pentagon.

Many times these fashionables have rallied to Bridges when the government hailed him into court. Many times the government has been frustrated on technicalities. Now it is moving more slowly, but moving nonetheless, in a two-pincer operation to depose Bridges — despite his powerful friends.

THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT has moved first. It started deep down in his powerful International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

On May 16, Assistant U.S. Attorney-General William F. Tompkins, in charge of the Internal Security Division, flew down to New Orleans to handle personally a Federal Grand Jury indictment of one of Bridges' lieutenants. That day the grand jury indicted Andrew Nelson, president of Local 207, operating on and near this Gulf port's docks.

Nelson was hit with a four-count indictment, charging that he had falsely filed a non-Communist affidavit, required by the Taft-Hartley Act. Nelson had sworn he was not a member of the Communist party and the government is disputing that.

NOW COMES ONE of those developments which have always galled me, for one. The local union, which Nelson controls with a clenched fist of iron, put up the $5,000 bail. The union's attorney, James I. McCain, is handling Nelson's case.

I could never quite see why the 500 members of this local, or any other union, for that matter, should dip into its dues to defend an official charged by the government with serious misdoings. Those longshoremen and warehouse workers put in some mighty back-breaking hours to earn their bread and pay their dues.

It isn't as though this fellow is an innocent babe out of the bayous. He has quite a record of sympathy for pro-Communist causes. Were he an innocent, being framed by somebody, there might be reason for the union to pay out its money to defend him.

But this Nelson has fought for two convicted Soviet atomic spies. He was listed as a sponsor of an appeal for clemency for the executed espionage agents.

NELSON'S NAME has been on lists of people fighting for Communist officials, especially Communist party boss, Eugene Dennis. No sense in listing all the pro-Communist statements he helped to sponsor. Point is he is innocent until proved guilty but there does seem to be grounds for believing the Justice Department didn't go after Nelson out of sheer whimsy.

The Justice Department believes it will prove its case. If it does, it will then move against other longshoremen's union officials elsewhere and so shift closer and closer to Bridges' central power.

It hopes it can get there before Bridges moves into one of the several major unions with which he has been dickering for some time.

On a second front the government is moving through the Senate sub-committee on Internal Security, under the studiously careful guidance of Robert Morris, a former New York judge who is as sensitive as anyone can be to the other fellow's civil rights.

THIS WEEK, Morris brought his committee to New York to probe into Bridges' activity on the east coast. Morris has subpenaed several of Bridges' union aides who operated on the local docks with the underworld for some time. One of these is Irving Charles Velson, long accused in previous congressional hearings of Soviet activity. Another is Jeff Kibre, whom I began to fight many years ago when he moved into Hollywood and led the under-cover, pro-Communist activity there.

The committee has considerable material — but the most startling is a record of Bridges' attack on the Bi-State waterfront Commission set up to police the vast New York harbor.

Whatever else happens, we may learn why the Bridges union sent money and men east and took the forces of law and order as a personal insult.

Pavement Plato

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — Sidewalk reflections on a pavement Plato:

Do you feel hopelessly immature in the presence of the younger generation?

HAL BOYLE

Many older people do today. Particularly parents. They feel their children are outgrowing them too fast.

One reason is the widespread custom of earlier weddings. Marriage at 18 and 19 is becoming commonplace.

"But the worst thing is they start going steady so young," one father moaned to me. "Girls only 12 years old seem to think they should have a steady boy friend. And if you raise a holler they say you're old-fashioned. They say all their girl friends the same age are starting to go steady, so why can't they?"

KIDS THAT AGE, of course, are only aping the high school teenagers, among whom the custom of "going steady" is now a nation-wide problem.

Some educators see it as only a passing fad, such as the wearing of denim pants or pony tail hair-dos. Others think it is senseless, dangerous and should be discouraged as much as possible.

Parents are as mixed up as the educators. Fathers generally are opposed to daughters in their tender mid-teens having a single beau. They have to restrain an urge to boot the young scalawag down the front steps everytime he whistles at the front door—or walks in without knocking.

MOTHERS ARE more tolerant. "I'd rather have my daughter go steady with a boy whom I knew was a good boy," said one, "than to date half a dozen, all of whom I couldn't be sure."

The high school proms, as remembered by most middle-aged folk, are now a thing of the past.

"There is hardly any cutting-in any more," a mother said. "The couples that are going steady dance with each other all evening. There isn't much changing of partners."

That, of course, makes it pretty tough on the kids who don't go steady. They feel as out of place as an old maid at a party where everybody else is married.

Somehow this custom of teenagers going steady doesn't seem as alarming to me as it does depressing. Adolescence is a time when lifelong emotions are excited, but is it the time when they should be set in an adult pattern?

YOUTH IS the age for change, experimentation, and—if you will—flirtation. Love should come and go like sunshine and cloud, not be fixed in a permanent pattern at a time when one is too young even to know what love means.

A realist might say: "Oh, well, it really doesn't make much difference. Grownups may think that when teen-agers go steady they are only playing at love, but the hearts of teen-agers are turbulent things. The ending of the game—and in most cases it will end, of course—can be a terrible emotional ordeal for either or both parties.

Why, anyway, do so many kids who are still in the bicycle and algebra stage even want to go steady? That is the disturbing thing. They didn't want to a generation ago.

Is it that since the world is moving so fast . . . so blindly fast . . . they sense the need of some deeper kind of security than their homes or parents can give them? Do they feel a desperate necessity to grow up quickly in a world with so clouded a future?

Whatever the reason, it is a cosmic pity that in our civilization it is the old who try to stay young and the young who try to act old.

Current Fiscal Policy Studied

Farmers, Bankers Split On Tight Money Policy

By SAM DAWSON

DES MOINES (AP) — The big debate over whether money should be tight or easy, dear or cheap, can be brought out of the oratorical clouds and down to earth here. Can the Iowa farmer, builder, businessman borrow the money he needs at a cost he can afford?

The bankers say: Money is tigher and interest rates are up here, as elsewhere, but they aren't turning away the regular customers with good credit records. They are more choosy about the poor risk, the speculative builder, the marginal farmer than they were back in the flush days before hog prices broke.

Would-be borrowers divide on that.

THOSE WITH ESTABLISHED credit and good financial statements haven't had any trouble in getting needed loans, although they report bankers ask more interest. The fight over the Federal Reserve Board's tight money policy leaves them cold so far.

Marginal farm operators, some hard hit by drought as well as falling farm product prices, and many housing development builders think differently. They complain that money is really tight and the bankers have a fishy eye.

Some bankers complain, too about their own situation.

One, a president of a small bank in the northern part of the state, says the Federal Reserve's policy of letting money tighten up is "hurting all right — especially because it has forced the price of U. S. bonds down." This bank has a conservative policy of keeping part of its funds in governments maturing in the next two or three years. But many of these are now off in price as much as $5.

THE BANK PRESIDENT asks: "How can we afford to sell these bonds to get funds to lend to our customers?"

The State of Iowa Department of Banking notes that the country banks recently have begun askirg for funds from the city banks, indicating a tightening of credit in the agricultural districts. But executives agree with most bankers that only the shaky farmers are being turned away. It's the "speculative home builder who isn't finding the easy credit this year," one official says.

One country banker Noel Leichty, vice president of the Ankeny State Bank, in Ankeny, Iowa, says in a telephone interview:

"We've had applications for loans this year from marginal farmers from other areas, and have had to turn them away, although we mightn't have back in the boom days. We have taken care of our regular customers, although we're taking a closer look, of course, at the poor operators.

"THIS STARTED when farm prices turned down around here, and is tied in with that more than with any federal reserve policy."

A leading Des Moines banker says farm debt has gone up some this year, but the increase isn't great.

And the State Banking Department adds that farmers haven't been mortgaging their land so much as they have been putting up their machinery or stock as collateral.

Cards Close In on Reds Behind Dickson's Shutout

Yankees Drop Tigers 5-3 For Sixth Straight Victory

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

The guys who knocked Frank Lane for shuffling the Cards had no reason to sing the "St.Louis Blues" today. The surging Cardinals are only a step away from first place in the National League and Manager Freddie Hutchinson thinks they'll go all the way.

Little Murry Dickson, still a top competitor at 39, pitched St.Louis to within thr- percentage points of the league-leading Cincinnati Redlegs Tuesday night by blanking the Brooklyn Dodgers 6-0.

The Reds were dumped by the Philadelphia Phillies 4-2 as Del Ennis climaxed a four-run eighth inning rally for the Phils with a two-run homer. The streaking Milwaukee Braves moved into third place by whipping the Pittsburgh Pirates for the second night in a row, 5-3. The New York Giants, getting a five-hit mound effort by Johnny Antonelli, beat the Chicago Cubs 2-0.

Pace Tightens Up

While only a single game separates the first five clubs in the National, the Chicago White Sox are preventing the New York Yankees from making a shambles of the American League flag chase.

The White Sox downed the Baltimore Orioles 5-1 Tuesday night as lefty Billy Pierce became the first American League pitcher to win 10 games. The victory enabled the Sox to keep pace with the Yankees, who swept to their sixth straight triumph, 5-3 over the Detroit Tigers in an afternoon tilt. Chicago trails the bombers by 5½ lengths.

In other games Tuesday night, the Cleveland Indians beat the Boston Red Sox 9-7 and Washington pummeled Kansas City 10-5.

Dickson now has won four games since joining St Louis from Philadelphia. He had lost all three starts with the Phillies. Alvin Dark, the ex-Giant, had three hits Tuesday night and is hitting .455 as a Cardinal with 10 safeties in 22 trips. Jim Konstanty has pitched 10 scoreless relief innings.

But it was Stan Musial, the old pro, who got the Redbirds off winging Tuesday night with a two-run first inning homer. Bobby Morgan also chipped in with a two-run four-bagger in the same frame off the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax.

Johnny Klippstein had a three-hitter going for Cincinnati when the Phillies suddenly lowered the boom. Stan Lopata's triple scored Richie Ashburn and Marv Blaylock and Ennis brought home the deciding runs with his blast into the left field seats.

Braves Win Fourth

The Braves, in winning their fourth straight under Fred Haney, broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh inning on singles by Johnny Logan and Hank Aaron, a walk to Danny O'Connell and Bill Bruton's sacrifice fly. The loss was the fourth in a row for Pittsburgh, which dropped to fourth place.

The injury-riddled Giants needed a top pitching effort to down the Cubs and they got it from Antonelli, who won his sixth. Bill Sarni's sacrifice fly in the second inning, scoring Willie Mays, who had tripled, produced one run. New York picked up another in the seventh on a walk, a sacrifice and Daryl Spencer's safety

Mickey Mantle did not hit a home run for the Yankees but the well-stocked American League champs got five-hit relief pitching and a homer from Tommy Byrne. New York overcame a three-run deficit in the seventh inning off Frank Lary. Andy Carey delivered the tie-breaking single in the eighth and Byrne's round-tripper wound up the scoring in the ninth.

The White Sox, who have won five of their last six games, got home runs from Larry Doby and Minnie Minoso. Pierce, who has only two losses, limited Baltimore to eight hits.

Roy Sievers was the big gun for the Senators, hitting two home runs and a single and driving in five runs.

DETROIT PITCHER TAKES PHYSICAL. Billy Hoeft, Detroit Tigers lefthonder, gets physical examination ordered by draft board. Here he gets check of blood pressure at Milwaukee, Wis., from Capt. R. J. Kelley. Hoeft previously was rejected because of knee trouble and a nervous disorder.

Titlist Defends State's Junior Links Crown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bob Ross Jr., 19, of Springfield Tuesday toured the York Temple Country Club course in a one under par 141 for 36 holes to successfully defend his Ohio Junior Golf championship.

Runners-up were Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, the state high school champion and winner of the "15 and under" division of the tournament the last three years, and Robert Black, a lanky 17-year-old from Massillon, who tied with 143.

In the "15 and under" division this year, Jack Moran of Cincinnati shot 84-75—159 to take over the title vacated by Nicklaus. Runner-up was Tom Shilling of Ashland with 161.

For his victory in the senior division of the tournament, Ross receives his second $325 scholarship from the Ohio Golf Assn., sponsors of the competition. Ross is a sophomore at Rollins College, where he is taking a business course.

The field of 96 entrants in Tuesday's one day meet made it the biggest in the 15-year history of the tournament.

American Legion Post 162 No. 1 was the leader in the Monday loop and Whirlpool owns a fatter bulge in the Friday circuit following latest sessions in the Marion Industrial golf league.

Legion Post No. 1 moved out front in the Monday division by whipping the previous co-leaders, B. F. Goodrich No. 1, 6½-2½. The Legion squad now shows 41½ points to 37½ for Goodrich.

In other action, third-place Erie No. 1 (36) whipped Depot No. 1 7-2, fourth place Whirlpool (33½) defeated Peirson Brothers 9-1, fifth place Short Ford (31) won over Depot No. 2 6-3, Palace Recreation downed Y-Men 5-4, and Borden's decisioned Depot No. 3 7-2. John Rife's 37 was low gross while Whiteman and Stull both had net 34's.

Whirlpool, widened its lead in the Friday loop by tying B. F. Goodrich 4½-4½ while runner up American Legion Post 162 bowed to Tecumseh 6-3. Whirlpool, with 31 points, holds a two-point edge over the Legion squad.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — All-America basketball star Robin Freeman says he will find out Friday-whether the loss of portions of two fingers from his left hand in a woodchopping accident will interfere with his playing ability.

The former Ohio State University ace, who had received bids to play professional basketball, said Tuesday night in an interview over a local television station (WLWC) that stitches in the two fingers will be removed Friday.

The accident occurred at Freeman's Cincinnati home and resulted in the loss of the first two fingers of the left hand down to the second knuckle.

Reds Drop 4-2 Verdict To Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Cincinnati Redlegs says there must be a "Patsy"—a team the Reds can lick consistently—if Cincinnati is to be a pennant contender.

The Philadelphia Phillies may fill the bill, but don't look to Tuesday night's game as proof.

Cincinnati has trimmed the last-place Phillies seven times this season, and lost two games, the second Tuesday night, 4-2, after a tight pitchers' duel.

Johnny Klippstein held the Phillies hitless for five innings and scoreless for seven. But when he weakened in the eighth inning, four Philadelphia runs came across—enough to win the game.

The Reds got only two singles off Stu Miller until the seventh inning.

Third-sacker Ray Jablonski doubled home both Cincinnati runs. Ted Kluszewski had singled and catcher Smoky Burgess walked after Frank Robinson sacrificed.

The first two Phillie runs came on a three-base hit by Stan Lopata that scored Richie Ashburn, who had walked, and Marvin Blaylock, who had singled.

The winning runs came on Del Ennis' 11th homer of the season that brought Lopata across.

The loss didn't knock the Reds out of the National League lead, but it left them only three slim percentage points ahead of St. Louis.

Only a single game separates the Reds and fifth-place Brooklyn.

In the final game of the series here tonight Art Fowler is slated to oppose Curt Simmons.

Buffalo Downs Columbus 4-2

By The Associated Press

Bill Renna, recently sent down to the Richmond Virginians by the Kansas City A's, appeared ready today to take his ire out on International League pitchers — that will be fine with Manager Eddie Lopat.

Renna made his first appearance with the V's last night as a pinchhitter in the second game of a doubleheader with the Rochester Red Wings, and blasted a 450-foot home run to tie the score. The V's went on to win the game 6-4, after the Wings had taken the opener of the doubleheader, 6-2.

In other league action, the Miami Marlins defeated the first-place Montreal Royals, 4-3; the Havana Cubans halted the Toronto Maple Leafs, 5-3, and the Buffalo Bisons turned back the Columbus Jets, 4-2.

The Falstaff team of Chicago, 1956 American Bowling Congress team, has signed Don Ellis of Houston, Tex. Ellis won the 1955 Petersen Classic with 1622.

Mac's Wins 5th Straight In Commercial Loop Play

Second round play in the Commercial League opened Tuesday night at Garfield Park with Mac's Trading Post and K & W Plumbers, one-two finishers in first round action, notching victories.

Mac's blanked Marion Merchants 3-0 to retain its hold on first while K & W remained on its heels with a 5-3 verdict over Carl's Auto Parts.

Bud England set down Marion's Merchants on two hits as Mac's chalked up its fifth straight Commercial loop victory. Two markers in the first inning and one in the second provided him with the winning margin.

MAC'S BUNCHED three of its five hits for its first runs in the first. Dick Roeberry, C. Harbolt and Max Roseberry all banged out hits and Charley Rizzo sacrificed to bring in the first two runs. The final run in the second was scored on a hit by Rizzo and a three-bagger by Darold Jenkins.

Wilcox worked on the hill for the Merchants.

K & W was forced to overcome a three-run deficit with late-inning scoring to whip Carl's and remain within striking distance of loop leading Mac's.

The losers came up with three tallies in the third which stood up until the last of the fifth. Hits by Sonny Taylor, D. Compton, Willie Jones and Don West—a triple—and a sacrfice by Dan Day accounted for Carl's three tallies.

K & W, HOWEVER, matched Carl's three in the fifth on singles by Bud Thorpe, Bob Schnelker, and Jim Riley, and a triple by Jim Frank. Up until the fifth, K & W had been held to a second inning single by Dick Gherman. The winning runs came across in the sixth on hits by Thorpe, Rus Frank and Gherman and a hit batsman.

Thorpe held Carl's to seven hits while the winners collected eight off Taylor. The winners stranded nine base runners while six Carl runners died. Taylor and West both garnered two hits and Don Poorman tripled for Carl's.

Feminine Tennis Ace Gets Amateur Warning

LONDON (AP)—Althea Gibson of New York, who has won 10 straight European tennis tournaments, has been advised by the British Lawn Tennis Assn. not to talk to newsmen unless a tennis official is on hand.

The action was taken Tuesday to safeguard her amateur status.

The advice followed the publication in the London Daily Mail of two articles on Miss Gibson's career. The paper made it clear that the tennis star had not written the articles, but were based on recent interviews.

Losing Streak Ends

Cleveland Nips Red Sox 9-7; Wertz, Smith Spark Hitters

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' longest losing streak in four years—a string of six defeats and a tie—ended Tuesday night.

Scoring six runs in the second inning, three of them on Vic Wertz' 16th home run, the Tribe defeated Boston's Red Sox 9-7 and moved into a tie with the losers for third place.

Lemon Nails No. 8

Al Smith hit a two-run homer in the fourth and had a double and a single for three of Cleveland's nine hits. He drove in three runs, and Wertz brought home four. Besides the runs scored on their homers, each sent a man across the plate with a sacrifice fly.

Bob Lemon, winning his eighth against four losses, couldn't get the final out of the game and was replaced by Don Mossi after the Red Sox had scored three runs. Mossi fanned Mickey Vernon to end the game.

Jim Piersall's double, a wild pitch, a walk, Vernon's single, and Dick Gernert's fly added up to two runs off Lemon in the opening inning. Ted Lepcio's fourth home run of the year in the seventh and Gernert's single after Piersall's double in the eighth produced two more Red Sox runs.

Righthander Ike Delock walked the first two Tribe batters in the second inning and had thrown two balls to Hal Naragon when he was replaced by Leo Kiely. Jim Hegan batted for Naragon against the southpaw and drew a bases-loading walk. Lemon fanned for the first out, then began the biggest Cleveland inning of the season.

Leo Kiely Hurt

Bob Avila beat out a hit to shortstop that drove in a run. Another tally followed when Gene Woodling beat out a roller to first. Kiely injured his side trying to field the ball, and Dave Sisler became the third Red Sox pitcher.

Al Smith's sacrifice fly brought Hegan in with the third run, and Wertz' home run over the right field fence chalked up three more.

Herb Score (6-5) hurls for the Tribe tonight against Bob Porterfield (2-6). The three-game series ends Thursday with Early Wynn going against Tom Brewer.

Summerlin Battles Satterfield In Bid for 13th Straight Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Young Johnny a future if he gets by Satterfield, Summerlin of Detroit, hopeful of who can knock out anybody he edging into the heavyweight title can hit."

picture, tonight, seeks his 13th ABC will telecast at 9 p.m. EST. straight victory against Chicago's explosive but unpredictable Bob Satterfield.

The 24-year-old Summerlin (30-4-2) is an 8-5 favorite in the Chicago Stadium 10-rounder. He risks his No. 6 ranking in the Ring magazine ratings and a chance against Pittsburgh's Bob Baker.

Satterfield, 32, a dynamite-fisted "spoiler," has a 40-21-4 record. He is a big hurdle to Summerlin's aspirations to get in the swim for Rocky Marciano's vacated heavyweight crown.

At the moment, the pending Archie Moore - Folyd Patterson scrap is pegged to determine Marciano's successor, but the retired champion had a good word for Summerlin in a Chicago visit last weekend.

"I've seen Summerlin on television and he impressed me with his youth, gameness and ability to take a punch," said Marciano, here for a civic celebration at suburban Forest Park. "He's got

3 Teams Tied For First in National Loop

Marion Power Shovel - OSCO, Wilhelm's and Vance's all shared top spot in the National League today following Wilhelm and Vance victories in Little League action Tuesday night.

| NATIONAL LEAGUE | | |
|---|---|---|
| MPS-OSCO | 6 | 3 |
| Wilhelm's | 6 | 3 |
| Vance's | 6 | 3 |
| Hinton's | 0 | 9 |

Wilhelm knocked over the previous loop leaders, MPS-OSCO, 3-0 triumph while Vance whipped winless Hinton's 11-1.

Three runs in the opening frame and Earl Hill's twirling led Wilhelm to victory in the nightcap.

A hit batsman, an error, hits by Hill and Jack Waddell, a pair of fielder's choices, and a walk accounted for Wilhelm's opening inning markers and Bill Wenton to blank MPS-OSCO on five hits.

Hill, surviving a first frame in which MPS tagged him for two hits, fanned 11 and walked three in posting the decision. The winners garnered the same number off Dick Merchant and Wendy Ward, who fanned 10, walked three and hit a batter.

Larry Merchant and Stan Flesher both had two hits for the losers.

Vance scored in every frame to clip Hinton's in a four-inning struggle and earn a deadlock for first.

A seven-run fourth clinched the victory after Vance had scored a single run in the first, two in the second, and one in the third.

William Flournoy held the losers to a single tally in the third and only one hit in his abbreviated stint on the hill. He fanned seven and walked four.

Vance banged out a 11-hit attack off Hinton hurling. Vance batters received two walks and were victims of five strike outs.

Danny Roseberry with three hits and Flournoy and Neal Hall, both with two, led the Vance hitting attack. Rodger Pfeiffer collected the lone Hinton safety.

Moulders, Elks Capture Routs In Colt Action

Front-running Moulders resumed its winning ways in the Colt League Tuesday night, downing Moose 11-5 at Lincoln Park.

| Colt League | | |
|---|---|---|
| Moulders | 6 | 2 |
| Elks | 4 | 4 |
| FOP | 1 | 5 |
| Moose | 3 | 6 |

Elks moved into the runner up slot in the opener, blasting FOP 16-3.

A seven-run seventh frame carried Moulders to victory after the Moose chalked up a 5-1 edge in the first four frames.

The winners scored first in the opening frame but Moose came back with two in the third and three in the fourth before Moulders tallied thrice in the fifth and seven times in the sixth for the decision.

Jim Anspaugh picked up the win on a four-hitter. He struck out five while walking seven. The winners collected six hits off Larry Ambrose of the Moose squad. Ambrose fanned eight and walked five.

Anspaugh had two hits for the winners and Ted Anderson tripled.

FOP nicked Joel Lenavitt for three runs in the first inning but he blanked them the rest of the way to notch a three-hit triumph.

Two run clusters in the first two frames was all Lenavitt needed but Elks clinched it with 10 markers in the third on six hits and two more in the fourth.

Lenavitt whiffed four and walked two. His mates backed him up with an 11-hit attack. Jim Hough was the FOP hurler. He fanned six, walked the same number, and hit a batter.

Jim Armbruster, Joe Ambrose, Dale Walters and Bud Burnside all had two hits for the winners.

Al Dark New Spark Plug in Cards' Attack

BROOKLYN (AP)—If Alvin Dark has slowed up, it is not noticeable to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Brooks were unanimous in their opinion today that the former Giant captain will give the St. Louis Cardinals the impetus they need to become a serious pennant contender.

"I don't know which team got the better of the Giant-Cardinal deal," said Jackie Robinson, "but I know the Cardinals were not shortchanged when they landed Dark. He not only will plug the gap at shortstop but he will be a good influence on the rest of the club."

Dark has been with the Cardinals less than a week but already he's become their spark plug. His teammates' respect for him mounts with each game.

"I always knew that Dark was a fine team player," said Stan Musial, "but I didn't realize how much of one he was until he joined us. He's the kind of a guy who'll sacrifice personal glory to help the team. There's no question he's going to be a big asset to this club."

It was Dark who set the stage for both Cardinal scoring innings Tuesday night as the Cardinals defeated the Dodgers 6-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Murry Dickson. The 33-year-old shortstop collected three hits and scored twice.

Since joining the Redbirds last Friday, the former LSU star from Lake Charles, La., has hit safely 10 times in 22 at bats for a .455 batting average. He's been a decisive factor in the last three games, all Cardinal victories.

American Ace Sets Sights on Walking Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry Laskau is a shy, bespectacled little office worker with a wife, two children, a house in the suburbs and one all-consuming desire—he wants to win an Olympic walking championship for the United States.

Next to his family, Laskau's main love in life is walking. He holds every American championship in the books, but in two tries he has yet to finish in the Olympics.

"I'm determined to finish this year even if I wind up last," he said today. "I don't know if I can beat those Europeans, but I do know I'm going to be in at the end."

Laskau was disqualified from both the '48 and '52 games for illegal walking.

"In Helsinki in 1952, everyone who had anything to do with walking saw me before the games, and there was no criticism of my style," he said. "But when I got my heat, an official from one of the Iron Curtain countries disqualified me."

There are no consultations or appeals in walking. Once an official calls an infraction, the walker is out with no questions asked.

"I couldn't very well complain," the 39-year-old Laskau continued, "and I haven't said anything until now, almost four years later. But one of the highest officials in the international federation told me later that I was as good as eliminated before I started because I was an American.

"I certainly don't know if that's true, but I do know that as far as I'm concerned, I didn't do anything wrong. Why, our own American walking rules are stricter than the Olympic regulations. Under our rules, we have to have one knee locked when the foot is on the ground. Under Olympic rules, all we have to do is make sure that one foot is always touching the ground."

Detroit's Bid For AL Flag

DETROIT (AP) — Bushy-haired Wayne Belardi never had been more than a big league 'handyman" when he reported to the Detroit Tigers for spring training and Manager Bucky Harris doubted even whether the 25-year-old Californian would be handy

But 30 pounds made a big difference Now Belardi has a hot streak going that has knocked two veterans out of the Tiger first base job

In and out of the majors since 1950 with the Brooklyn organization Belardi played behind Gil Hodges and was in only 93 games in parts of four seasons Still, it took $50,000 and three players for the Tigers to get him in June 1954

The investment is just now beginning to pay off Veteran first baseman Earl Torgeson and Jack Phillips have been benched because of it Belardi is hitting 368 He's hit safely in seven straight games, with two hits in five of them

His weight had been over 200 pounds in each of his seven previous seasons in organized baseball In 1955 he reported at about 220 and divided his time between Detroit Buffalo and San Francisco Although he hit 23 home runs his batting average was just 247

"It was a lousy year for me" he said "but if it did nothing else it taught me a lesson I knew I was never a good fielding first baseman, and I tried to hit the long ball all the time That's what the managers expected, and that's what I tried to give them

'So, I worked on my fielding and went on a strict diet After I had those things taken care of, I started working on my swing I was uppercutting the ball I knew that it was up to me if I wanted to play in the majors"

Belardi went to Mexico to play winter baseball and "spent all my time working on my faults" He failed to hit a single home run but batted 270 and improved defensively

This spring he reported at a svelte 189 pounds Writers who covered the club in spring training agree no one worked any harder or showed more determination than this Dodger castoff.

BOB LEMON, OF THE CLEVELAND INDIANS, WHO APPEARS TO HAVE REGAINED HIS 20-WINS-OR-BETTER FORM.
BOB SLIPPED BELOW 20 WINS FOR ONLY THE 2ND TIME IN THE PAST 8 SEASONS LAST YEAR. EVEN SO HE TIED FOR THE LEAGUE HIGH WITH 18 WINS BUT HE COMPLETED ONLY 5 OF 31 STARTS
HOWEVER, THIS SEASON HE'D COMPLETED THAT MANY IN HIS FIRST 6 STARTS—HIS ONLY INCOMPLETE ONE, AND ONLY LOSS, THE 2-1 OPENER

She said she would return daily until the dealer 'makes his work good' on her new home The store operator Ottis Johnson, said the trouble was the "electrician's fault' for punching a hole in the Grainer's bathroom wall and that he was working for a contractor not the Grainers

Home Expert Debunks Superstitions on Food

DETROIT (INS)—A home economist recently advised housekeepers in Detroit to sweep the black cats out of their kitchens and begin enjoying their food

Tossing a little salt over her own shoulder Marqueta Huyck assistant professor at Wayne University said

I m fore ei amazed at the superstitions which still plague many people's 20th century eating habits

'They endow one food with ability to do terrifying things another with magic powers for good

A lot of what these foods do for these people is in the head not the stomach or food itself"

SEPARATING FOOD facts from fallacy and fiction Miss Huyck took up the alleged ability of yogurt black strap molasses or wheat germ to add five years to your life

'False They re nutritious, But no food is that good"

Spinach will make a muscle man out of you

False Any protein and just about any other green vegetable will do the job better'

Combinations of sea food and ice cream cherries and milk or cantaloupe and ice cream in the same meal will give you a stomach ache

False If you can eat them separately they can t hurt you together

Raw steak will cure a black eye

'The cooling effect will slow down the blood flow An ice pack is better and cheaper"

Raw or very rare meat is more nourishing than cooked meat

False Proteins in meat are not damaged by heat and cooking makes meat easier to digest'

WHITE EGGS are more nutritous than brown eggs

False There s no difference except that white eggs make better Easter eggs'

Fish is brain food

False Nobody has discovered a food that specifically aids brain activity In fact there is no evidence that extra brainwork requires extra food energy'

Miss Huyck also put the veto on such food ideas as these

Garlic purifies the blood Raisins cure asthma Tomatoes and milk cause cancer A combination of baked potatoes and butter milk is helpful for a reducing diet Water is fattening Toast has less calories than bread

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Mixed prices and slow trading continued in the stock market early this afternoon.

Leading issues moved within the plus or minus side generally in fractions to a point. A few stocks stepped beyond this.

While practically all divisions were mixed, motors went pretty solidly to the upside.

General Motors, Chrysler and Ford were ahead fractionally.

There was light trading in steels as Republic and Youngstown Sheet & Tube dipped by minor fractions. U S Steel and Bethlehem were steady.

Among the rails, Northern Pacific stepped ahead around a point.

Allied Chemical dropped around a point.

U S Treasury bonds were moderately lower.

Too Many Husbands Plagued By Housework, Woman Says

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP)—An outspoken woman with the iron of self reliance in her blood says that many a modern American husband does too soon because his wife saddles him with endless household tasks.

"Young wives are killing their husbands by expecting them to do too much work when they get home from their jobs," asserted 78 year old Mrs. Agnes Ferguson Murdoch.

"And it's all done in the name of cooperation!

"All this talk you hear these days about cooperation. Which really means things like the husband taking over the children as soon as he walks in the door, pitching in on a lot of housework and all the rest of it. Oh, it's all so familiar as the men know.

Mrs. Murdoch reared six children of her own and had a big hand in the upbringing of three stepchildren besides. For most of the 44 years of her married life she took care of a 15 room house with little outside help.

What's more she thrived on it. Not many would guess that she's crowding 80 nor question her proud boast of 'grand' health.

Her husband Alexander has done all right too. He's a sunny, pink cheeked eye twinkling 91.

On the subject of what she calls men's rights Mrs. Murdoch said:

"I think a husband deserves a chance to relax when he gets home after working all day. And I believe wives are pushing their husbands into heart attacks by demanding too much of them.

As Mrs. Murdoch sees it too many modern women fall victim to self pity, and self pity leads to general flabbiness of mind and spirit.

"I managed fine," she said, "even if we didn't have the benefit of all these automatic appliances and other labor-saving gadgets, to say nothing of synthetic fabrics and goods you don't even have to iron.

"We mothers didn't have kaffee klatches as I believe the daily habit now is called. We didn't have time. But I did take about an hour each day to rest and to be alone just to think."

About 18 million tourists visited Ontario in 1955.

I STILL DON'T BELIEVE IT, DAD!
I KNEW IT FROM THE FIRST — THAT GIRL WAS NOT INTERESTED IN YOU! SHE WAS INTERESTED ONLY IN WHAT SHE COULD GET FROM ME — THROUGH YOU!
WELL, HERE YOU ARE, MISS! SURE YOU'LL BE ALL RIGHT?
YES, THANK YOU! I'LL BE ALL RIGHT!
JUST A MINUTE! WHAT TIME IS IT?
FOUR O'CLOCK IN THE MORNING, MISS! ANYTHING I CAN DO TO HELP YOU?
NO, I WAS GOING TO ASK YOU TO DIAL A NUMBER FOR ME — BUT IT'S TOO EARLY TO EVEN PHONE DR. MORGAN!

I MEAN, WHEN A GIRL MEETS A BOY SHE LIKES, SHE'S JEALOUS OF ALL THE TIME SHE DIDN'T KNOW HIM! SHE WANTS TO... WELL, ORIC! I UP ON HIS LIFE!
I KNOW WHAT YOU MEAN, LARRY? WELL, HE WAS ALWAYS A NICE KID.

Watered Gasoline Helps Nab Thieves

WENONA, Ill. (AP)—Watered gasoline enabled Sheriff James Evans to capture two youths who had been feeding their old model car on a farmer's gasoline supply for several months.

Cyril Senninger reported the thefts, and Deputy Kenneth Kenyon suggested Senninger add five gallons of water to three gallons of gasoline in the tank used to supply fuel for farm machinery.

The youths made their usual appearance, helped themselves but got only a mile away from the farm on the mixture.
